

WEATHER—Wednesday fair; Thursday cloudy. EIGHT PAGES

XENIA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1927

VOL. XLVI. No. 208.

PRICE THREE CENTS

BRITISH PILOTS OFF FOR AMERICA.

ROUND-WORLD FLYERS LEAVE BELGRADE

DETROIT PLANE OFF
FOR CONSTANTINOPLE
ON SCHEDULED TIME

Bad Weather Causes
Stop—Entertained
By Aero Club

BELGRADE, Aug. 31.—The "Pride of Detroit," round-the-world airplane piloted by Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, hopped off from the Bezanifa aerodrome at 5:30 o'clock this morning for Constantinople.

The distance to Constantinople is 500 miles. The fliers hope to arrive in the Turkish capital before noon today.

Schlee and Brock adhered to the meticulous punctuality that has characterized their epochal flight thus far from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. They arose early this morning, made the twelve mile trip from this city to the airfield in the company of municipal officials, and supervised the refueling of the "Pride of Detroit" and a final inspection of its engine.

Brock and Schlee arrived here at 11:45 yesterday morning from Munich, Germany. They had originally planned to proceed directly to Constantinople, but reports of adverse weather conditions near Sofia caused them to stop here. The weather bureau warned that the storm would continue throughout the afternoon, so the round-the-world fliers decided to lay over until this morning.

During their stay in this city, the fliers were guests of the American legation, and last night attended a banquet given in their honor by the Jugoslav Aero Club.

The Detroit airmen said they were intensely disappointed over the delay, but expressed the belief they would be able to make up for lost time within the next two or three days. Brock and Schlee are out to break the present record of 28 and one-half days for a trip around the world.

MAY CONTROL LONG DISTANCE FLYING

CUTS $4,000,000 FROM GRAND TAX DUPLICATE

Reduction Applies Only To Real Estate—Auditor Wead Says Values Decreased Since Appraisal—Expect New Budgets

County Auditor R. O. Wead has ordered a reduction of 10 per cent in all land values within Greene County, to take effect in the valuations on the tax duplicate for December, 1927.

The total reduction will amount to approximately $4,000,000, reducing the grand tax duplicate for Greene County in 1927 to $54,000,000, which still represents, however, an increase of $4,000,000 over the 1926 duplicate.

This reduction applies to land only and will have no effect on the values of improvements on individual tracts of land.

The 10 per cent reduction was decided upon by Auditor Wead after he had made an exhaustive study of real estate values within the county and found there has been a decided reduction in land values within the past eighteen months and since the re-appraisal of 1926, as approved by the State Tax Commission.

In making the reduction, Auditor Wead is acting under authority granted in Section 5548-1, Ohio General Code.

Approximately 25,000 tracts of land in the county are affected by the announcement.

The drop in land values has occurred since the last property re-appraisal, for as a whole, the appraisal was considered unusually satisfactory. This is indicated because only 183 complaints were submitted to the County Board of Revision by property owners who were of the opinion the re-appraisal in certain instances was too high.

A comparison of records discloses, that while only 183 complaints were made on the 25,000 tracts of land appraised in Greene County, other Ohio counties of the size of Greene had as many as 3,000 complaints.

As an example, not a single complaint was received from land owners in New Jasper Twp.

EIGHT WHO FLOGGED KENT MAN SEARCHED FOR BY AUTHORITIES

Attack On Chief Of Police Blamed For Whipping Case

AKRON, O., Aug. 31.—Eight men, who yesterday flogged Alfred Harris, 55, Kent, Ohio, furniture dealer, with knotted ropes, are sought by Portage and Summit County authorities. It was said that several suspects will be questioned.

Harris is suffering from serious lacerations on his back and from shock.

Harris said he was flogged because of his denunciation of George Trahern, police chief of Kent, whom he often accused of having bungled the investigation of the murder of Clayton Apple, night patrolman, two years ago.

Harris had prepared a petition to Governor A. V. Donahey on the Apple murder, and had obtained 700 signatures. It was this petition that the floggers demanded when they accosted him in his workshop shortly after midnight Monday.

When Harris refused to surrender the petition the masked band beat him severely, choked him and finally threw him into an automobile and transported him to a lonely spot on the Kent-Darrowville Road, in Summit County, where he was flogged.

When Harris made his way to the Summit County Jail here he was in such condition that he had difficulty in telling of his flogging. He was taken to a hospital for treatment, and there again denounced Trahern, who called to question him about the flogging.

Patrick Hutchens, private detective and former sheriff, was with Harris when Trahern called, and was informed that private sources would be used to find and punish the floggers.

REPORT SHOWS COST

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 31.—Women residents of the Belmont County Infirmary are wearing oxfords that cost five dollars and a half a pair, according to a report of state examiners, filed here. The report shows that women's slippers were purchased for three and a half a pair, and that men's suits were bought for fifteen dollars each.

UNCLE SAM'S AIR MAIL SINGS SWAN SONG

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—And will be taken over by the National while they're acclaiming Lind Air Transport. Uncle Sam leaves to the country the others of the year's flying heroes a nearly national system of air routes for their contribution to the progress of aviation. Uncle Sam tonight may ask modestly:

"How about me?" Tonight Uncle Sam will sing his swan song as an air mail carrier, and this is a paean of progress indeed.

At the stroke of midnight the last of the government's air-mail men who sped through the day routes, the New York-to-Chicago and the night with the mails, leg, will pass into the hands of As if in testimonial to the fine private enterprise. The section efficiency to which Uncle Sam be carried by the express planes.

LOSES $100,000 IN JEWELS

Mrs. James Snowden, Southampton, N. Y., society leader, who was robbed of $100,000 in jewels at her Long Island home. The gems disappeared during the night from her bureau.

ADMIRAL JIMMIE MANAGES ENTRIES

REV. V. F. BROWN ASKS RELEASE FROM TRINITY M. E. PASTORATE

Minister Resigns Pulpit Second Time In Year
Desires To Accept Other Offers—Conference Will Decide

For the second time in a year, the Rev. V. F. Brown, D. D., pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, has asked to be released by the local congregation. His desire to leave Trinity M. E. Church was expressed to the governing board of the church ten days ago and was officially announced Wednesday.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago last June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

Upon arrival here he was decorated as "admiral" and the title stuck to him.

During his tenure of office new records have been established in various branches of the internal revenue service in this district. His accomplishments in the Cincinnati office and the great volume of work that was handled under his direction added much strength to the arguments advanced by Cincinnati interests in their campaign to retain the internal revenue office in Cincinnati, recently a campaign that caused Washington officials to announce a definite postponement of the contemplated consolidation.

Just what connection there is between the consolidation efforts a few months ago and Mr. Dean's resignation at this time could not be established last night.

It will be recalled that plans of the Treasury Department to combine the four Ohio offices into two—with headquarters at Columbus and Cleveland—"leaked out" ahead of the scheduled time and a wave of opposition, seldom witnessed in Cincinnati, arose immediately.

Hamilton and Minchin were "dark horses" in the trans-Atlantic derby. Until late last night it was not known that they intended to leave this morning, and their announcement that they would brave the dangers of a trans-oceanic hop today came as a complete surprise.

The aviators and their female companion almost met with tragedy at the very outset. The heavy plane sped across the field for almost three-quarters of a mile before it rose into the air, and then narrowly missed a clump of trees as it cleared the field.

A tremendous cheer went up from the large crowd which had assembled. The spectators gasped as the plane wobbled uncertainly over the turf. For a moment it was feared that the plane would not rise. Then when it had taxied more than three-quarters of a mile, on its hazardous trip,

PRINCESS FLIES AS FIRST PASSENGER ON WESTWARD ATTEMPT

Captain Leslie Hamilton, Col. F. Minchin And Princess Lowenstein, Aged 61, Make Up Crew—Ottawa, Canada, Is Goal

THURLES, Ireland, Aug. 31.—The trans-Atlantic plane St. Raphael passed over Thurles at noon today, headed toward Galway. Thurles is about half way across Ireland.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—The Fokker monoplane carrying Captain Leslie Hamilton, Col. F. Minchin and the Princess Lowenstein on a trans-Atlantic flight from England to Ottawa, Can., passed over New Ross, County Wexford, Ireland, at 10:50 o'clock this morning, officials here have been notified.

New Ross is at the southeastern tip of Ireland. The plane was reported heading due west, which would take the fliers straight out to sea.

UPAVON, Wiltshire, Eng., Aug. 31.—With the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim as a passenger, Captain Leslie Hamilton and Col. F. F. Minchin of the Royal Air Force took off from here at 7:35 this morning in a new attempt to span the Atlantic ocean by air.

Using the Fokker monoplane St. Raphael, owned by the Princess, the fliers headed for Ottawa, Canada.

A dramatic scene took place at the nose of the plane tilted upward the airdrome before the start was ward, the wheels went free from the ground, and a moment later the plane had disappeared into the clouds.

News of his resignation comes as a surprise to his many friends and to the business men of Cincinnati who rallied to his support recently when Washington officials were forced to abandon their plans for a consolidation of the Cincinnati and Columbus offices of the Internal Revenue Department, with headquarters in Columbus.

Mr. Dean is in Colorado on a three weeks' vacation trip and confirmation of his resignation could not be obtained last night from him. It is known, however, that it has been submitted to the officials at Washington and that Mr. Dean will relinquish the duties of the office as soon as he returns from his vacation.

In his absence the affairs of the office have been administered by Albert Wuest, his chief deputy.

It is known that Mr. Dean took few, if any, persons into his confidence in regard to the resignation, and for that reason, his action was more or less unexpected.

Still, those with an ability to "read behind the lines," professed last night to have obtained an inkling of his intentions a few weeks ago when he accepted the presidency of a new bank in Hyde Park.

They said last night that Mr. Dean probably would not have accepted the position unless he had an idea at the time that he would leave the collectorship soon, indicating that he probably had the question of retirement in his mind as soon as he returns from his vacation.

In his absence the affairs of the office have been administered by Albert Wuest, his chief deputy.

It is known that Mr. Dean took few, if any, persons into his confidence in regard to the resignation, and for that reason, his action was more or less unexpected.

"I am confident of my pilot and my machine. I am proud to be the first woman passenger to attempt crossing the Atlantic ocean. I am excited, of course, but I am not nervous. Could I be anything else? It is a great adventure."

In making the flight, the Princess emulated the example of Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer and a friend of Princess Loewenstein.

Princess in Style

The Princess' stylish outfit was in sharp contrast to the rugged flying clothes of her companions. She wore a black toque hat and loosely-fitting bright blue suede jacket, and her legs were encased in a pair of riding breeches with yellow boots topped with brown fur. The boots just failed to reach the bottom of her breeches, and two inches of sheer silk stockings were left exposed.

Minchin was self-possessed but Hamilton was the most nervous of the three. While the ground staff was starting the engine he murmured:

"This is the part I don't like. This is the grim part of the ordeal."

He evidently referred to the dangerous moments on the ground when the plane had to gain momentum to take the air.

Minchin said that weather reports were favorable, although a heavy ground mist hung over the field.

"All weather reports are in our favor," he said. "The wind will be behind us for at least half the way across. I know we'll pull through, else we wouldn't have started. We have more than 750 gallons of petrol which should last up to forty hours. We have sandwiches and coffee aboard and other emergency rations."

The Princess Lowenstein, an English woman, is sixty-one years old. She was born Lady Anne Saville. In 1897, she was married to H. S. H. Prince Ludwig Karl Zu Loewenstein-Wertheim-Freudenberg, a member of the German nobility. She has been a widow since 1899.

A member of a British family that dates back to the time of Richard II, the Princess has long been prominent in society of England and the continent. Of late years, she became intensely interested in aviation.

The International News Service announced last week that the Princess was contemplating this flight with Minchin and Hamilton, but it was denied by Hamilton at the time.

Hamilton and Minchin were "dark horses" in the trans-Atlantic derby. Until late last night it was not known that they intended to leave this morning, and their announcement that they would brave the dangers of a trans-oceanic hop today came as a complete surprise.

The aviators and their female companion almost met with tragedy at the very outset. The heavy plane sped across the field for almost three-quarters of a mile before it rose into the air, and then narrowly missed a clump of trees as it cleared the field.

The weather was cloudy, and a heavy mist overhung the field as last-minute preparations for the start were made. The visibility was poor, but the fliers were not to be deterred, and the engine of the plane was tuned up for the start.

A few moments before 7:30 o'clock, the three figures stepped out the side of the plane's fuselage into the cockpit. Hamilton and Minchin helping their titled passenger into her seat. The engine started with a roar, and the heavily-laden plane sped across the field.

Beat Other Flyers

The two fliers and the princess stole a march on half a dozen other fliers of different nationalities, who had hoped to be the first to cross the ocean from Europe to America by airplane. Except for the fact that the flight is being made by three persons instead of one, the daring venture is similar to the early stages of the epochal flight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Little news had been given out regarding the preparations for the flight and few persons were aware that Minchin and Hamilton had the slightest intention of leaving this morning. It is very likely that no one but the fliers themselves and perhaps a few intimates, had the least suspicion that the Princess Lowenstein

A NEW RECIPE
EVERYDAY!

By
Mrs. Mary Morton
CLIP IT!

Just one of the many home features in the

Gazette

Wednesday fair; Thursday cloudy. EIGHT PAGES

XENIA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1927

VOL. XLVI. No. 208.

PRICE THREE CENTS

STEPHENSON LETTERS SNEAKED FROM CELL MAKE GRAVE CHARGES

D. C. STEPHENSON ON HORSEBACK IN KLAN REGALIA, WITH TWO OF HIS LIEUTENANTS.

IX
By BONITA WITTStaff Writer for Central Press
and The Evening Gazette

(In this installment, Stephenson begins to make his alleged disclosures.)

As soon as D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, began to serve his sentence at Michigan City for the murder of Miss Madge Oberneiter, young Indianapolis girl, stories began to leak out of the prison that "Steve" would talk if given a chance. Thomas Adams, Vincennes publisher, and his committee of editors, in the course of their investigations of alleged corruption in Indiana, sought to see the former Klan leader and hear his story, but they were refused admittance.

Stephenson managed to smuggle a letter out of the prison bearing the caption "What Stephenson Could Tell." Excerpts from it follow:

"He could explain where and how $200,000 was used in the campaign of 1924 to buy votes and to stuff ballot boxes with spurious votes."

Stephenson's Broadside. "He could tell why concrete was substituted for asphalt in the paving of certain streets, and he could tell who profited by the manipulation."

"He could tell about laws being passed to impose a heavy and unlawful tax upon the public, and were later declared unconstitutional in lawsuits started by the men who inspired their passage for no reason except to create an impression with the voters that these public officials were devoted to the interests of the taxpayers."

"Briefly stated, if D. C. Stephenson could and would talk, his knowledge of dishonesty in public affairs would create a state scandal that would make Pennsylvania and Illinois look like pikers."

Still Another Smuggled Letter. In an effort to make himself heard, in another letter, smuggled to Thomas Adams, Stephenson said:

"I have in a place of security the following described documents:

"1. A written contract by the terms of which a certain prominent official of the state of Indiana agrees to pay me the sum of $25,000, or three times the amount I expended in his behalf for election."

"2. I have notes representing the above amount signed by the official."

"3. I have a written memorandum signed by the same official acknowledging the amounts ex-

Cedarville News

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemens and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Townsley motor to Cincinnati Thursday for a few days visit with Prof. F. M. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Purdum.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spencer and daughter, Wilma, spent the week end in Dayton with Mr. and Mrs. Roll Shultz.

Misses Lucile and Eleanor Johnson and Kenneth Little returned home Friday evening after a two days stay at Geneva on the Lake and Beaver Falls, Pa.

Misses Eleanor Johnson, Kathryn Hughs and Helen Iliffe gave a "shower" at the home of Miss Johnson Tuesday afternoon honoring Miss Lucile Ritenour.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Galloway gave a six o'clock dinner to a few of their friends Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Finsett who leave next week for their new home in Noblesville, Ind.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Hamilton had for their guest Wednesday, Miss Flora Roberts of Springfield, O.

Rev. Ernest McClellan and wife who have been visiting here for two weeks returned to their home in Rochester, N. Y., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Siegler, who have been spending a week in Marietta, O., with their son, Prof. G. F. Siegler and wife returned home Saturday, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law.

Miss Virginia Hill of Columbus and Miss Thelma Talkington, of Chester, O., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ebanks.

Miss Elizabeth Creswell, who has been spending the summer in Chicago, returned home this week.

Mrs. John A. Gregg and two children of Cambridge, Miss., are here on a two weeks' visit with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Ritchie.

Mrs. George McClellan, of St. Joseph, Mo., is here visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lucy McClellan.

Prof. F. A. Jurkat, wife and son, Elmer, left Thursday for a ten days' visit in Pittsburgh and New Galilee, Pa.

Mrs. Anna M. Townsley left Saturday on a trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, Buffalo and Cleveland.

Mrs. Louise Ebanks, who was operated upon for gall stones at the McClellan Hospital, Xenia, returned home Monday.

Mr. Harold Ray, of Michigan University was visiting friends here the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kyle spent a few days here this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kyle.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lackey and daughter Alice attended the reunion of the Lackey family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Robbins in Troy, last Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. Merle Rife and family left Tuesday for their new home in Tarkio, Mo., where Rev. Rife will become a member of the faculty of Tarkio College and will teach Greek.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell and their son-in-law, George Conffar of Dayton, spent the weekend at Paw Paw Lake, Mich., at the home of Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. Sam Petty.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gillough had for their guests for several days last week, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Morris Harvey and Mary Wright, Sallie and Roy Williams and Sadie Stewart of Frankfort, O., were also here to attend the funeral of Lucious Liggins.

Mrs. Anna Friday, of Blue Field, Va., is the guest of her niece, Mrs. Willis Cash, E. Market St. She will return to her home the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oglesby, Columbus St. and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stanhope, E. Second St. and Mr. Will Cousins, have returned from an extended trip to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. They attended the Elks' convention in New York City and on their return stopped over in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Relatives have received word of the death of Mrs. Sarah Stewart of Sidney. She was well known here. The funeral services will be Thursday afternoon.

Own a Diamond By Christmas

JOIN OUR CHRISTMAS DIAMOND CLUB

By Making a Small Payment Each Week On
The Ring You Select.

Tiffany Jewelry Store

PERFECT DIAMONDS

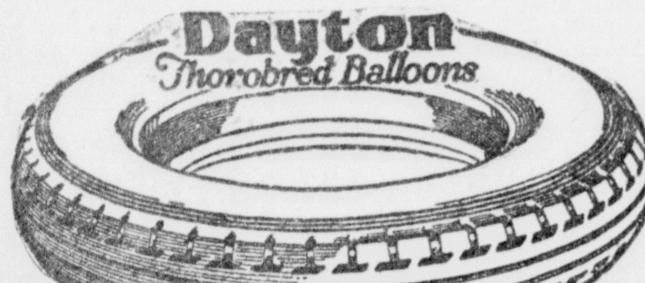

ROOF PAINTS

Special Prices on Barn and Roof Paints

GRAHAM'S

Wall Paper, Paints, and Glass
Phone No. 3

THE MOST TIRE FOR THE MONEY SPENT

XENIA AUTO NECESSITY CO.

"TOM AND DICK—THE TIRE BOYS"

Phone 533 For Road Service.

ORPHIUM
TONIGHT
"DAME CHANCE"
A dynamic drama from the novel by Frances Nordstrom in 7 thrilling reels.
With Robert Frazer, Julianne Johnston, Gertrude Astor and Mary Carr.
Also a PATHE 2 Reel Comedy
Admission 20c

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
William Fox Presents

TOM MIX

And Tony the Wonder Horse
In a breath-taking story of the Fighting Texas Rangers

"Outlaws of Red River"

Also a Mack Sennett 2 reel comedy and PATHE NEWS
Admission 20c

FAMOUS
Radio "B" Batteries
45 VOLT REGULAR $1.95
45 VOLT HEAVY DUTY
$3.00
GUARANTEED
FAMOUS AUTO SUPPLY CO.

SECOND CHOICES

William K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Rosamond Warburton (shown above) are to marry, their intentions having been published in Paris. Vanderbilt and his wife were recently divorced after having been separated for almost two decades. His attentions to Mrs. Warburton were commented upon before she and her husband were divorced.

Farm Notes

MILK DELIVERY WINS
Uncle Sam's postal service is outclassed as a carrier from country to city. Modern milk delivery has won the edge on mail delivery, according to a comparison of the two by H. D. Eckert, a director of the Selby Valley Milk Producers' Cooperative Association.

In making this comparison Mr. Eckert used actual experience. He has relatives living on a farm 50 miles from Columbus. He found that if a can of milk were set on the farm platform ready for the milk truck, and a letter dropped into the rural mail box at the same time, that the milk would be transported to Columbus, pasteurized, bottled and delivered to the doorstep of the consumer several hours before the letter would reach a city resident by carrier.

As for cost, figuring both milk and mail on the basis of weight in ounces, the milk handler can also beat Uncle Sam, Mr. Eckert said. Compared with the two cents an ounce for first-class mail, the marketing costs on milk would not exceed two mills an ounce, or approximately one-tenth the rate on

Yellow Springs

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garlough celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary with a family dinner Wednesday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Rife and Miss Carrie Rife, of Cedarville; R. J. Corry and Mrs. Mabel Corry Binnig and two sons, Roger and Walter, of near Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Garlough and Mrs. Marie Goode, Yellow Springs, and Jay P. Garlough, of Holland, Mich.

Mrs. Lydia Denison went to London, Saturday, to spend a few days with her sister.

Dr. R. Earl and family, who have been connected with the college for the past four years will leave the first of September for Boulder, Colo., where he hopes to regain his health. Prof. English and family, who were at Antioch two years ago, will return and occupy the house vacated by the Earls.

Prof. L. R. Gibbs and family will return to Miami, Florida, Thursday, after having spent the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lacey and daughter, Miss Helen are enjoying a motor trip through Ohio. They are visiting in Newark and will later visit in Seventeen, Tuscarawas County, returning home about the third of September.

Miss Naomi Shellhaas of Ludlow Falls spent the past week with her cousin, Miss Hazel Brewer.

Miss Marie Hamma, of Dayton, spent part of last week with her mother, Mrs. W. R. Hammer.

Mrs. Ella Elliott, of Cleveland, was a guest of Misses Hattie and Debra Hardman, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Elliott is the widow of Rev. Elliott, who was pastor of the Methodist Church here about twenty-five years ago.

Mrs. Ford Kershner had son, Fred, returned Thursday from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burras (Bessie Kershner) in North Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Warren and son, motored here from North Carolina to visit Mrs. Warren's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dawson. Victor Esterline who has been ill for the past seven weeks in McClellan Hospital in Xenia was able to be brought home Wednesday.

Mrs. Emma Weston Smith, who has been motoring through the west this summer returned home Friday.

Miss Vera Lingo is visiting relatives in Ludlow Falls.

Mrs. Will Lee is at McClellan Hospital in Xenia, where she had an operation.

Mrs. Bob Figgins and little daughter, Dora Ann, are visiting relatives in Waynesfield.

Jay P. Garlough who is advertising manager on two of the leading publications at Holland, Mich., being on a business trip through Ohio and Indiana stopped for a few hours Wednesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garlough.

Read This, Girls: Freckles Melt Away

In Four Days

Just apply this wonderful cream

—a new discovery—and in four days your freckles are all gone—simply melted away.

Not only that, but this four day treatment leaves the skin clean and clear and youthful looking. So that you will not have to risk your money Sayre's Drug Store or any live druggist will return you the purchase price if it fails. Just ask for Flyte. It's just what freckled women have long prayed for.

—Adv.

COMING
TOMORROW!

SAVE HERE ON USED CARS

1923 DODGE TOURING

1927 FORD ROADSTER

1924 FORD FORDOR

1926 FORD ROADSTER

1926 DODGE SEDAN

1925 STAR TOURING

JOHNSTON MOTOR SALES

109 West Main St.

SCHOOL FOOTWEAR

FOR THE YOUNG MAN AND LADY

YOUNG LADIES' PUMPS, STRAPS

AND OXFORDS

$3.95 and $4.95

YOUNG MEN'S SNAPPY OXFORDS

In Black And Tan

$3.95 and $4.95

Styles Shoe Store

We Give And Redeem Purple Stamps

CROSLEY

Better RADIO Costs Less

Authorized Sales and Service.

A. C. Dayton Dealers

We service all makes of sets.

HAGLER & WEAVER

19 S. Detroit St. Phone 35

"LIVING

and

LOVING"

By Mrs. Virginia Lee

Mrs. Lee is the friend of everybody. To the thousands of persons who write to her column "Living and Loving," she gives her kindly attention and prescribes sound, unsentimental advice.

She knows thousands of secrets that persons would not entrust to their own mothers, and she has never violated a confidence.

All you need to do is to have Mrs. Lee for a friend is to write her frankly, signing your name as evidence of good faith. She never reveals names of correspondents; initials or pseudonyms are signed to letters that are published.

Even if you have no troubles to tell Mrs. Lee, you will find her column vitally interesting.

A Daily Feature in the
GAZETTE

Look at this list

Every Car Guaranteed
Every Car Reconditioned
Easy Terms

1925 DODGE DELUXE
SEDAN
New Duco Finish. New tires.
Priced to sell—$595.00.

1924 WILLYS-KNIGHT
FORDOR SEDAN
Duco Finish $650
With box body and good tires—$100.00

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page whenever you go away. The Gazette and Republican consider it a courtesy whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70-

RECITAL FOR TWO PIANOS THURSDAY

Miss Marguerite M. Williams and her pupils, Frances Anderson, Imogene Dean, Charlotte Johannes, Ruby Johnston, Emma LeMar and Thelma Tindall are inviting the general public to attend a recital of music for two pianos Thursday evening, September 1, at 8 o'clock at the Reformed Church, Xenia.

Miss Williams is now opening her fall classes in piano pupils. The program of the recital will be as follows:

Priest's March, from "Athalia"

Mendelssohn

Misses Le Mar, Dean, Johannes, Anderson

Soldiers' Chorus, from "Faust"

Gounod

Misses Johannes, Tindall, LeMar,

Dean

Minuetto Glorioso Mozart

Misses Dean, Johnston, Anderson,

Tindall

Jubelfeier Kramer

Misses Johannes, Dean, Le Mar,

Anderson

Sonata in C Mozart

Sicilienne Bach

Misses Johannes and Le Mar

Polonaise Brillante Deceveur

Misses Le Mar, Tindall, Johannes

Anderson

Military March Schubert

Misses Johannes, Dean, Le Mar,

Tindall

Butterfly Grieg

Country Danie Nevin

Misses Le Mar and Johannes

Overture to "The Magic Flute"

..... Mozart

Misses Le Mar, Dean, Johannes

Anderson

March from "Tannhäuser"

..... Wagner

Misses Williams, Le Mar, Johannes

Anderson

MR. AND MRS. JOHNSON ENTERTAIN FRIENDS SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson, near Jamestown, were host and hostess to a number of friends, Sunday, who called with well-filled baskets for a picnic dinner.

All enjoyed the social gathering in the afternoon. Those present were Elder C. P. Ballard, Blanchester; Mr. and Mrs. John Chenoweth and son, Earle and daughters, May and Mabel, Oregonia;

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Evans, Miss Alice Chenoweth, all of Waynesville;

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shambaugh, near Harveysburg; Mr. Joseph Buckwalter and son, James and daughter, Bessie, and niece, Miss Jennie Tyson, of Nedmoreton; Mr. and Mrs. William Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, all of near Jamestown.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MR. LAWRENCE LILE

Sixty neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. Lawrence Lile on the Cincinnati Pike, Saturday evening to celebrate his birthday. The lawn was lighted with electric lights and a picnic supper was served at two long tables placed on the lawn. A large birthday cake, decorated in pink and white, with the date in icing, centered the table.

The evening was spent in a social way.

The group leaders of Sara M. Chew, a branch of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Trinity M. E. Church, met at the home of the president, Mrs. B. U. Bell, recently when group leaders made out programs for the year. The group leaders are Mrs. J. J. Stout, Mrs. Harold Owens, Mrs. Clara Reutering and Mrs. Alvin Conklin. The society will hold its first meeting Monday, September 12, at Mrs. H. C. Aultman's. Mrs. Reutering's group will be in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beatty will enjoy a motor trip to Louisville and Lexington, Ky., over the weekend.

Lal Bagh, the Foreign Missionary Society, Trinity M. E. Church, will meet September 13, instead of Monday, September 6, with Mrs. John Ary, S. Monroe St. Mrs. H. C. Aultman's group will have charge. This will be the last meeting of the conference year and a full report of the work will be given. Mrs. Ary will be assisted by Mrs. F. C. Bishop, Mrs. W. B. Chew, Mrs. Lois T. O'cott, Mrs. J. J. Stout, Mrs. Paul Fetz, Mrs. Maude Starke, and Mrs. H. C. Aultman.

Mr. J. H. Canaday of the Stout Coal Co., is taking his vacation and is attending the Ohio State Fair at Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Cross and daughter, Miss Winifred Hill St., have returned from a two weeks' vacation at Russell's Point and Waterbury Resort.

Mrs. W. H. McGervey will entertain the choir of Trinity M. E. Church, Friday night, honoring Dr. and Mrs. V. F. Brown, who are leaving soon for conference at Delaware. Mrs. Brown will be honored by her Sunday School class Thursday evening.

Xenia W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at the home of Miss Jenny M. Thomas, E. Third St., at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Sone, New York City, arrived in Xenia Monday for a visit with Mrs. Sone's father and mother, Professor and Mrs. G. J. Graham.

Miss Wilson, New Vienna, O., representative to the Ohio Rebekah Assembly, will be present at the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge at the lodge hall Thursday evening and give a report on the assembly. The meeting has been called for 7:30 o'clock. Team practice will be held and a large attendance is sought. Refreshments will also be served at the meeting.

Ladies' Aid Society, First Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Armstrong, N. King St., at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. Ralph O. Wead and Mrs. Paul Cresswell will be assistant hostesses.

ANNUAL BEAVER GRADED SCHOOL PUPILS TO MEET

The annual reunion of the Beaver Graded School will be held Labor Day at the grove at the Beaver Reformed Church, it was announced Wednesday. In case of rain, the reunion will be held in the church basement.

A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon, followed by a program in the afternoon. Mrs. Bertha Trebein Flynn will give the address of welcome, and the Rev. Arthur Leaming will pronounce the invocation. Mrs. Orpha Dillingham, and Mrs. Newton Ledbetter will give a duet and Mr. Horace Ankeney will give a recitation. The "schoolroom" program will be augmented with a chorus on the type of the "old singin' school" composed of old pupils.

Mrs. Ernest Bradford is president of the organization and Mrs. Charles Ankeney is secretary.

MRS. SHAFFER IS HOSTESS TUESDAY

Mrs. Ross Shaffer graciously received a company of guests at her home on W. Third St., Tuesday afternoon, for tea. The guests were received at 4 o'clock and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

Late summer flowers were used about the reception rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lucas, South Solon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrow and son, Glenn Russell, Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Stephens and little son "Billy Bob" Parker, Ind., Mr. James Stephens, Munice, Ind., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Johnson, near Jamestown, Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Furstenberger, Mrs. John Acton and Mrs. Robert Dorman, of the Xenia U. B. Church, left Wednesday morning for Cincinnati, to attend the U. B. Conference. The Rev. and Mrs. Furstenberger were given a rising vote of confidence and appreciation at the Sunday services and their return to the Xenia pastorate will be asked by the delegates to the conference.

The Rev. Lester L. Bickett and family, Rossville, Ind., are visiting the Rev. Mr. Bickett's father, Mr. D. D. Bickett, W. Main St.

Capt. and Mrs. Morris Berman, Wilbur Wright Field, have gone to Chicago for a two weeks' stay.

Mrs. D. E. Turner, W. Second St. is entertaining Mrs. Lucy Haines and daughter, of Kenton, Mrs. F. L. Haines and daughter, Mrs. Cochran, Urbana, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Swinner, 11, the "most spanked" boy, according to other pupils, in Miss Doran's class. But now the spankings are past and all Richard wants is to hear that Miss Doran is on her way back to Caro to tell the children of her fateful flight toward Hawaii.

"Miss Doran was one of the best teachers a person ever had," Richard will tell anyone. "She never spanked very hard, and then she always hit us kids on the hand, just a little. I guess we deserved a lot of it. Gee, she was nice, though."

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Gordon, missionaries to India together with their two children, are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williamson, N. Detroit St. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon have been in this country the past eighteen months and are sailing September 6 for India. Mr. and Mrs. Williamson are extending a cordial invitation to their friends and members of the Second U. P. Church, to call at their home, Saturday between 3 and 5 o'clock to meet and greet Mr. and Mrs. Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall and Mrs. Clayton Swartz left Wednesday morning by motor for Detroit and Canada, to spend a few days.

Miss Bertha Anderson, Montezuma, Col., spent Tuesday in Xenia with friends. Miss Anderson formerly lived east of Xenia on the Jamestown Pike and at Cedarville. She has just returned from a European tour, which included Scotland, Germany, Italy and France.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beatty will enjoy a motor trip to Louisville and Lexington, Ky., over the weekend.

Lal Bagh, the Foreign Missionary Society, Trinity M. E. Church, will meet September 13, instead of Monday, September 6, with Mrs. John Ary, S. Monroe St. Mrs. H. C. Aultman's group will have charge. This will be the last meeting of the conference year and a full report of the work will be given. Mrs. Ary will be assisted by Mrs. F. C. Bishop, Mrs. W. B. Chew, Mrs. Lois T. O'cott, Mrs. J. J. Stout, Mrs. Paul Fetz, Mrs. Maude Starke, and Mrs. H. C. Aultman.

Mr. J. H. Canaday of the Stout Coal Co., is taking his vacation and is attending the Ohio State Fair at Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Cross and daughter, Miss Winifred Hill St., have returned from a two weeks' vacation at Russell's Point and Waterbury Resort.

Mrs. W. H. McGervey will entertain the choir of Trinity M. E. Church, Friday night, honoring Dr. and Mrs. V. F. Brown, who are leaving soon for conference at Delaware. Mrs. Brown will be honored by her Sunday School class Thursday evening.

Xenia W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at the home of Miss Jenny M. Thomas, E. Third St., at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Sone, New York City, arrived in Xenia Monday for a visit with Mrs. Sone's father and mother, Professor and Mrs. G. J. Graham.

Miss Wilson, New Vienna, O., representative to the Ohio Rebekah Assembly, will be present at the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge at the lodge hall Thursday evening and give a report on the assembly. The meeting has been called for 7:30 o'clock. Team practice will be held and a large attendance is sought. Refreshments will also be served at the meeting.

Ladies' Aid Society, First Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Armstrong, N. King St., at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. Ralph O. Wead and Mrs. Paul Cresswell will be assistant hostesses.

WANTED

Young Man To Work
In Classified Advertising Department
Apply at Gazette Business Office

THURSDAY Lunch Menu

Stuffed Pork Chops
Creamed Peas
Brown Potatoes
Bread and Butter
Tea, Milk or all the Coffee You Wish

35c

The Gallaher Drug Co.
33 E. Main St.

GIRL SAVES PENNIES TO AID TEACHER SEARCH

GERALDINE JONES, LEFT, SADLY READS THE NEWSPAPER STORIES OF THE HUNT FOR HER BELOVED TEACHER, MISS MILDRED DORAN. TOP, CENTER, IS THE OLD WING OF CARO CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL, ARROW POINTING TO WINDOWS OF MISS DORAN'S SCHOOLROOM. CENTER SHOWS NINE-YEAR-OLD MARJORIE MOORE. BELOW IS RICHARD GOODELL, THE "MOST SPANNED" BOY. AT RIGHT, MISS DORAN AS HER PUPILS KNEW HER.

By WILLIAM H. RITT
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to THE GAZETTE

(This is the second dispatch, with exclusive pictures, obtained by a Central Press staff man, sent to the small town of Caro, Mich., to pass a few days in the community which knew Miss Mildred Doran, missing flyer, as the school ma'am at the consolidated school in the heart of the town.)

(It's DOR-an
CARO, Mich., Aug. 31.—The world is wrong when it pronounces the last name of Miss Mildred Doran, lost flying school "ma'am" as DO-RAN, according to Maxine Stovell, 11, one of Miss Doran's former fifth grade pupils.

"Her name is DOR-an," Maxine confided to a newspaper man. "She'd be mad if she knew folks called her DO-RAN."

plane and found Miss Doran. She was so glad to see me. I picked her up and we came back to Caro in my plane. All the people just hollered they were so glad to see her back again.'

Among First to Know Then there is Geraldine Jones, a little eleven-year-old, who hasn't missed an edition of the city papers distributed in Caro since Miss Doran, John Auggy Pedlar, pilot, and Lieutenant V. R. Knope, navigator, flew away in the plane named after the young teacher.

"I think I was one of the first persons Miss Doran told that she was going to make the trip," Geraldine said, proudly, as she scanned some headlines in a vain hunt for the good news. "I didn't want her to go. I was afraid. You know the Pacific ocean is awful big, and airplanes aren't so good, anyway."

Richard Goodell isn't the only boy pupil in Miss Doran's fifth grade who longs for her return to Caro. There is Johnny Celen, ten, who lives near Richard, and there is Duart Ogden, ten, who liked Miss Doran lots, though the girls still tell about the time Miss Doran gave Ogden a good shaking for "acting up."

The children are not alone in Caro in their wish to again see the sprightly young "school ma'am." Everyone in this small central Michigan town seems to have known the girl and to have been captivated by her ways.

A Model for Her Child

The mother of Iva Goodwin, eleven, one of Miss Doran's pupils, believed that the teacher was an ideal model for her own little girl. Miss Doran visited the Goodwin home often and would talk over Iva's future with her mother.

In Caro's quiet main street is a small restaurant where Miss Doran

MONEY TO LOAN Up To $500.00

Without loss of time from your work or home.
On Furniture, Automobiles, Diamonds, Farm Equipment, Etc.
Call, Write or Phone and our representative will call on you without obligation.

THE EMPIRE FINANCE CO.

303 Callahan Bldg. Cor. 3rd and Main Sts., Dayton, Ohio.

THE FIGGERS FAMILY

Get The Message Right, Pa

PRINCIPAL IN AUTO ACCIDENT IS HELD

Brice Williams, colored, Springfield, was returned to Xenia Tuesday night to face a charge of reckless driving as an aftermath of the auto collision on the Springfield Pike Sunday night in which Williams' coupe was overturned after colliding with a touring car driven by Howard Sanford, colored, Clifton Pike.

Though it was county fair week at Caro, in the shops and on the street, at the postoffice and at the little brick railroad depot Miss Doran and her plight were the chief topic of conversation. The elders,

EDITORIAL

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican published daily except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Main Street, Xenia, Ohio, by the Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3rd, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward, Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative; Chicago Office, No. 5 South Wabash Avenue, New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES 1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
In Greene County $.10 $1.00 $1.90 $3.50
Zones 2 and 3 15 1.15 2.15 4.00
Zones 4, 5 and 6 50 1.30 2.40 4.50
Zones 6 and 7 55 1.45 2.65 5.00
Zone 8 60 1.50 2.80 5.50

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents per week. Single copy, three cents.

Business Office—111 TELEPHONE Editorial Rooms—70
Advertising and Business Office 111
Circulation Department 800
Editorial Department 70

BIBLE THOUGHT

A GOOD PRACTICE.—It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto Thy name, O Most High. Psalm 92:1.

USE OF SCHOOL VACATIONS

The school vacations are about over, and it is about time for the young crowd to get back into the school room.

The old theory of vacations was that children were so exhausted by their lessons that it was necessary for them to dig out for about 10 weeks, to recover sufficient vitality to dig into their books for one more year. That was when lessons were made so uninteresting that a live boy or girl naturally got headache doing them.

In these days school lessons are not treated in that dull way. The children feel some incentive to learn, consequently the idea of vacation is not so much to rest exhausted pupils, as to give them a chance of activity. It is not considered well for them to spend their vacation idly. If they have not had plenty of good activity this vacation, the rest time has not given them what they need. Their parents should plan something better next time.

HANGING ON TO FORTUNE

Even if, as a Chicago paper says, the late J. Ogden Armour left an estate of only $20,000 after having lost from $1,000,000 to $150,000,000 in speculation and unfortunate business ventures, it would be unwise to draw the inference that the fortunes of wealthy American families are apt to take wings and disappear in two or three generations. The facts, indeed, are all the other way. To be sure, George Gould, who was most incompetent as a business man, managed to drop a large part of the great estate accumulated by his father, but these two exceptions seem to prove the rule.

For a century and more the Astors, the Vanderbilts and the Morgans have been rolling up vast wealth. For over half that period John D. Rockefeller has been doing the same, ably abetted by his son and namesake. The Marshall Fields, the McCormicks, the Dexels and other well-known families have been hardly less successful in the game. Carnegie could have left an enormous fortune if he had so desired. Great riches piled up through several generations of endeavoring have a way of sticking in the families.

Mr. Armour's case was a very striking exception. He too, could have died immensely wealthy, through the great business left to him by his father, if he had not cherished an ambition to dominate the grain and provision markets of the world. The mania for speculation proved his undoing. Those with more conservative instincts seem to have no great difficulty in holding on to the millions that their ancestors gathered up.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON

PILGRIMS

Some time ago 1,800 school children from Iowa and Missouri carried on three special trains to the tomb of Lincoln in Springfield, Ill. They will not forget the trip. Their interest in Lincoln and their appreciation of the meaning of the life of the Great Emancipator will be intensified for life.

Why not more pilgrimages for youth to American shrines? No boy or girl can look into the little cabin in Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln was born, or walk through the rooms of Mt. Vernon and the halls of Monticello—no boy or girl can do this and ever be quite the same again.

LOSING BEAUTY FOR WHAT?

Translations of the Bible in modern English add little, while they take away a great deal. The old, authorized version of the Bible has the simplicity and beauty and rhythm of fine poetry. Calling Noah's ark a "barge," and the Garden of Eden a park, and a "mess of pottage" a "red omelet" is making a poor substitution. Language beautifully used is rare enough. It's too bad to take out of the Bible some of the rarest expressions in English.

WHO IS WHO?

Speaking of radicals, the excited young man on the soapbox at the street corner, who tells us the government is all wrong is what we call a "red." He is "against the government." The rich man who hates the Eighteenth amendment and won't obey it, and keeps liquor in his cellar is also against the government.

One expresses his radicalism in one way and another in another. Who's who?

Songs of a Housewife

BY MARJORIE K. RAWLINGS

RAG RUGS

Suggested by Mrs. Benjamin L. C., Whitesburg, Ga.

RAG rugs are kindly, as old folks are kind,

Well-worn by life, but strong and sturdy still.

Softness has come, for youth is left behind,

And warmth is in them when the days are chill.

Rag rugs are beautiful, for they have served;

Once antique pantaloons and cape and shawl,

They have a mellow charm, and, quaintly curved,

Grace nursery and living-room and hall.

Rag rugs are dear, as memories are dear,

For they are woven from the well-loved past;

They are bright records of a vanished year,

And hold remembrance to the very last.

Great-grandma's hoop-skirt yields its velvet bands;

Grandfather's frock-coat donates. Thriftily wives,

Threading these fragments with their busy hands,

Are weaving patterns made of vanished lives.

Scientist Predicts: "In Another Generation One-Half the World Will Be Flying."

Household Hints

By Mrs. Mary Morton

MENU HINT

Peppers may be stuffed with a rice and tomato mixture or with leftover meat or fish. The latter may be mixed either with cooked rice or bread crumbs.

Stuffed Peppers Baked Potatoes Cabbage Salad Peach Pie Coffee or Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES

Peach Pie—Peel, stone and slice peaches, line a pie plate with crust, and slice in fruit until crust is full, sprinkle liberally with sugar, pour in two tablespoons water, put on upper crust and bake.

Cannelon of meat is a meat loaf or roll wrapped in waxed paper for baking, to keep the steam in. Any of the loaves may be cooked in this way.

Peach Meringue Pie—Peel, stone peaches, slice into pie crust, sweeten. If you like the flavor chop three peach kernels fine and scatter over the pie. Bake until the crust is done, beat up the whites of two eggs, sweeten with confectioner's sugar, spread on top of peaches and brown in a slow oven.

SUGGESTIONS
Eggs in a Nest

When the children rebel at eating spinach or other green vegetables try "eggs in a nest." Make a dainty bird's nest of well-cooked spinach and arrange tiny "eggs" made from cottage or cream cheese nests. Sprinkle each "egg" with pulverized yolk of hard-boiled egg.

Visits Native City.

Marguerite Alvarez, American operatic contralto and champion of jazz, recently visited her native city, Liverpool, England, and was heard there in recital and concert. She is a Peruvian born in Liverpool, when her father was Peruvian minister to England. Her brother is now head of the Peruvian legation in Washington.

BRAN BISCUITS
(Mrs. Mary Morton's Daily Tested Recipe.)

One cup bran, one cup flour, two tablespoons brown sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, one-third teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup buttermilk or sour milk, one teaspoon molasses, two tablespoons melted fat. Mix dry ingredients thoroughly. Beat egg until light, then add sour milk, molasses and dry ingredients. Stir in melted fat and fill graham tins about one-half full. One-half cup raisins may be added with the flour. Allow to stand ten minutes, and bake in a hot oven fifteen to twenty minutes.

MIME RUBINSTEIN

is going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

I am going to talk today about babyhood as the first of the five ages of one's life. So

JUNIOR BUSINESS MEN TAKE CITY TITLE GAME FROM FIREMEN

By virtue of a long lead established in the early innings, the Junior Business Men, Class A champions of the Xenia Play-ground League, trounced the Firemen, Class B champions, 13 to 6 in the opener of a three-game series to decide the city softball championship of 1927 at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Tuesday night.

The Class A title-holders thus obtained the edge on the series and need but one more victory to win the mythical title. The Firemen, on the contrary, face the uphill task of winning two straight games.

The second chapter of the series will be played Thursday night at 6 o'clock and should a third game be necessary, it will be played off next week.

The Junior Business Men opened viciously in the first inning on Downey, Fireman hurler, in a big scoring spree that ended at the figure seven. Three more runs were added in the second inning, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Firemen scored once in the first inning, twice in the second, once in the fifth and two more in the seventh. The Class B champs had an uncanny faculty for filling the bases frequently, but lacked the punch at critical moments to score runs.

Fast fielding in the outfield, especially by Clark Eckerle, who turned in a number of brilliant catches, saved the situation many times with runners in a position to score. Eckerle also played a prominent part in the attack and scored one run himself. Downey hit well for the Firemen.

Game pitched with Hult behind the plate for the winners. Downey and Dice formed the battery for the Firemen. The Junior Business Men were without the services of their regular shortstop, Patterson, who may not be able to play in the series.

J. B. M. lineup: Buffington, 3b; Downey, p.; Cope, ss; Dickey, cf; J. Haller, 2b; H. Haller, rf; Dice, c.; Swartz, lf; Briley, 1b; Finlay, ss; Eckerle, cf.

Firemen's lineup: Purdom, rf; Hult, c.; Frame, p.; Parrett, 2b; McCurran, lf; Hyman, 2b; Highley, 1b; Finlay, ss; Eckerle, cf.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON MOORE DAIRY FARM; LOSS NEAR $5,000

XENIA HORSES WILL COMPETE ON STATE FAIR SPEED EVENTS

Several Greene County horsemen have entered harness racers in the Ohio State Fair races at Columbus August 29-September 3.

Ed Fogwell, Osborn sportsman, has entered four horses in the events.

He nominated Prince Binville for the two-year-old trot for the Secretary of State $1,500 purse, and Al Bingin in the 2:13 pace for the Buckeye $1,200 purse Tuesday.

He has also named Al Jennings, b. g., by Wallace McKinney, for the 2:11 pace and $1,000 purse and The Specimen, b. g., by The Exponent, in the 2:20 trot for a purse of $1,000 to be run Friday.

Silver Pointer, gr. g., by Sidney Pointer, familiar horse to Xenia fans, is also entered in the 2:11 pace by P. E. Sellars, Dayton, O.

Dr. L. O. Addison, Xenia, entered Ammunition, bl. g., by San Francisco, in the 2:25 trot scheduled for Monday, but rain interfered with the racing after one heat.

Handy Jim, b. g., by Peter the Great, is listed to start for the money in the 2:07 pace for a $1,000 purse, by David Fifer, Xenia.

Steve G. Phillips, popular Xenia starting judge, is again sending the trotters and pacers away this year at Columbus.

RESERVE SLUGGERS RAISE AVERAGE FOR SEASON ON SUNDAY

Reserves raised their season's batting average three points to a mark of .334 by pounding out fifteen bingles in Sunday's debacle with the Xenia Merchants.

Tangeman, Conley, Fennell, Weller and Dodson were the players in particular to benefit in the percentage column by the heavy swinging.

Reserves have now won sixteen games and lost five this season. Batting records follow:

Player	AB.	R.	H.	Pct.
Moder	1	0	1	.000
Crowl	5	1	3	.600
Dodson	16	6	9	.562
Conley	37	17	19	.513
Scott	2	2	1	.500
Fennell	9	1	4	.444
Herman	7	1	3	.428
Durnbaugh	90	30	38	.422
Watson	39	9	16	.410
Tangeman	74	20	30	.405
C. Scott	63	22	21	.333
Johnson	70	16	21	.300
Rader	64	17	19	.296
Weller	75	22	21	.280
Kelser	75	22	20	.273
D. Fuller	8	2	2	.250
Cyphers	77	12	19	.246
Black	18	3	4	.222
Pobst	5	2	1	.200
Wirtz	17	3	2	.117
J. Fuller	4	1	0	.000
Smithson	1	1	0	.000
Schoepf	1	0	0	.000
Jacobs	1	0	0	.000
Totals	759	210	254	.334

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON MOORE DAIRY FARM; LOSS NEAR $5,000

Fire originating in the hay-mow completely destroyed a large barn and most of its contents, including part of the equipment for a dairy plant in the basement on the farm of V. H. Moore, dairyman, N. Detroit St., located five miles north of Xenia on the Fairfield Pike early Wednesday.

Cause of the blaze remains a mystery. The loss is estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000, partly offset by insurance carried on the barn. The contents were not insured.

Thirty tons of hay, fifty bushels of seed wheat, 100 bushels of oats, one feed grinder, one wagon and other farm utensils were destroyed in the blaze.

A double corn crib and a new concrete silo, not quite finished, were also burned.

The fire was discovered between 5:30 and 6 a. m. by Oren Hill, tenant on the farm. Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill and Crane drove out the seventeen cows to safety and separated the herd. Moore, who operates a milk route, was on his way to the scene of the blaze.

Neighbors came to their assistance but the blaze had gained great headway and could not be brought under control because of lack of adequate fire-fighting apparatus.

Volunteers centered their efforts on preventing the flames from spreading to a number of nearby smaller buildings, including the residence, 20 feet away, and were aided by a west wind that probably saved the house from destruction.

Part of an electric milking machine in the basement, operated by a gasoline engine, was also saved, but one of the units was lost. The power house was located 150 feet away.

Moore also owns an adjoining farm and is contemplating converting a barn on this farm to carry on his dairy business without delay. He is also considering rebuilding the barn destroyed by fire because it is more conveniently located.

He announces, however, that there will be no interruption of service to his customers on his milk route because the entire herd of milk cows and much of the dairy equipment in addition to the second barn, remains available.

COULD BE RECORD

COLUMBUS, O., August 31—The first authentic and complete record of graves of Ohio soldiers who took part in the War of 1812, has been presented to Adjutant General Henderson by the Ohio Daughters of 1812. The record was compiled under the direction of Mrs. J. R. Tanner, London, chairman of the grave marking committee of the organization. The work required more than ten years according to Mrs. Tanner.

OPTOMETRISTS PICNIC

Optometrists from Clark, Montgomery, Greene and half a dozen other counties in this section of the state will picnic Wednesday afternoon and evening at Sinclair Park, north of Dayton. Every family is expected to take full dinner basket, ice cream, coffee and lemonade being furnished by the management of the picnic. One of the features of the gathering will be an indoor baseball game. A short business session of the optometrists also will be held.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 1:

Red Men.

P. of X. D. of A.

Rebekahs.

Second annual reunion, Needmore School for Pupils and Teachers.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 2:

Eagles.

D. of V.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 5:

D. of P.

Xenia S. P. O.

Unity Center every Monday.

B. P. O. E.

Shawnee I. O. O. F.

Wright R. & S. M.

Friends S. S. picnic, Keiter grove.

All members and friends urged to attend with well-filled baskets.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6:

Obedient Council D. of A.

Xenia I. O. O. F.

K. of C.

LOCATION OF BOARD AUTO SPEEDWAY IN XENIA IS POSSIBLE

DAILY MARKETS

LIVE STOCK

XENIA LIVESTOCK

Greene County Livestock

Heavies-$9@9.75.

Mediums-$10@10.25.

Lights-$10.25@10.50.

Pigs-$9.25.

Roughs-$7.25.

Calves-$10@12.

Sheep-$3.75.

Lambs-$10@11.

DAYTON

Receipts, 4 cars, mkt. steady.

Heavies-$8.75.

Mediums-$9.50.

Lights-$10.60.

Pigs-$8@10.

Stags-$4.50@5.50.

Sows-$6.50@7.25.

CATTLE

Receipts, 10 cars, mkt. steady.

Best fat steers-$9@10.

Veal Calves-$6@14.

Medium Butcher Steers-$8@9.

Best butcher heifers-$8@9.

Best fat cows-$6@7.

Bologna cows-$3.50@4.50.

Medium Cows-$3.50@4.

Bulls-$6@7.

Spring Lambs-$9@10.

Sheep-$2@5.

GRAIN

DAYTON

Flour and Grain

(By the Durst Milling Co.)

(Prices being paid for grain at mill).

Wheat, No. 1, new, $1.25.

Rye, No. 2, 90c bu.

Corn, $1.50 per 100 lbs.

Oats, per bu. 48c.

Eggs, 28c.

FIRSTS, 29c.

LIVE POULTRY

Heavy fowls, 25@26c.

Leghorn fowls, 18c@20c.

Springers, 26@28c.

Leghorn broilers, 22c@23c.

Roosters, 15c@16c.

Geese, 16@17c.

Ducks, 22@23c.

POTATOES

"YES, I SOLD IT," HE REPLIED;
"I USED AN AD IN CLASSIFIED."

Classified Advertising Page

THE EVENING GAZETTE, XENIA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1927.

"I FOUND JUST WHAT I WANT-
ED," SAID HE; "A CLASSIFIED
AD BROUGHT IT TO ME."

Classified Advertising Rates

Daily Rate Per Line for Consecutive Insertions. Cash Charge
Six days 95 05
Three days 98 09
One day 99 10

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification, style and type. The right is reserved by the Publishers to edit or reject any advertising.

The Xenia Gazette and Republican maintain a staff of clerks ever ready to perform service and render advice on all kinds of advertising.

Advertisements ordered for irregular insertions will be charged at the one-time rate. No advertisement will be taken for less than the cost of three lines. Special rates for yearly advertising upon request.

The Publishers will be responsible only for one incorrect insertion. Classified Ads will be received until 2:30 a.m. for publication the same day.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Card of Thanks.
2 In Memoriam.
3 Florists, Monuments.

4 Tax Service.

5 Noted Meetings.

6 Personal.

7 Lost and Found.

8 Business Cards.

9 Cleaning, Dressing, Laundry.

10 Dressmaking, Millinery.

11 Beauty Culture.

12 Professional Services.

13 Building, Remodeling, Heating.

14 Electricians, Wiring.

15 Building, Contracting.

16 Painting, Papering.

17 Moving, Packing, Storage.

18 Employment.

19 Help Wanted—Male.

20 Help Wanted—Female.

21 Help Wanted—Agents—Salesmen.

22 Situations Wanted.

23 Wanted—Instruction.

LIVE STOCK—POULTRY—PETS

24 Dogs—Canaries—Pens.

25 Poultry—Eggs—Piplets.

26 Horses—Cats.

MISCELLANEOUS

27 Wanted To Buy.

Miscellaneous For Sale.

28 Household Goods.

29 Clothing—Apparel—Shoes.

30 Groceries—Meats.

REAL ESTATE

31 Houses For Sale.

32 Lots For Sale.

33 Real Estate For Exchange.

34 Apartments For Sale.

35 Business Opportunities.

36 Wanted Real Estate.

37 Automobile Insurance.

38 Auto Laundry—Painting.

39 Tires—Tubes—Batteries.

40 Motorcycles—Bicycles.

41 Auto Agencies.

42 Used Cars For Sale.

PUBLIC SALES

43 Auctioneers.

44 Auction Sales.

LOST AND FOUND

45 TRAVELING—Bag containing baggage and other wear apparel between Beavertown and Springfield via Xenia. Reward—Phone 10-K-1, Bellbrook.

ROOFING, PLUMBING, HEATING

46 PIPE—Valves and fittings for all purposes. Bocklet's has all kinds of plumbing and heating supplies and are the best. The Bocklet-King Co., 415 W. Main St.

HELP WANTED—MALE

47 WANTED—Tenant hand by the day or month. A. J. Fury, Phone Cedarville 4 on 152.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

48 THREE—Saleswoman, house to house work. Apply in person to Mrs. Warne, Hornick House.

WANTED—A girl clerk at Famous Cheap Store.

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE

49 WLV:

50 6:55—Baseball scores.

51 7:00—Hotel Gibson Trio, farm talk.

52 8:00—Bessie Cricher, organist.

53 8:30—String ensemble.

54 9:00—Lana O'Dance Music, Dan Gregory's Orchestra.

55 10:00—Instrumental Trio, Melville Ray, tenor.

56 11:00—Johanna Gross, organist.

57 12:30—Children's stories.

58 7:50—Piano solos.

59 8:00—Book review, Alice B. Cov.

60 8:20—Snayshot poems, Ethel Knapp Behrman.

61 8:30—Martin Four, male quartet.

62 9:30—Harriet Weilen.

63 WFBE:

64 7:30—Safety talk.

65 7:45—Maude Laymon, soprano.

66 8:10—Walter Pulse, baritone.

67 Elizabeth Jones, pianist.

68 8:35—Lindy's Amphions, dance orchestra.

HORSES—CATTLE—HOGS

69 JERSEY—Bull, 15 months old.

70 Phone 4065-F-5.

71 45 DOUBLE—Immured During Spring Shoots. Good ones. T. C. Wolford.

72 WANTED TO BUY

73 WANTED—Second hand bicycle must be in good shape. Call at 12 E. Second St., Xenia.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE

74 FICKLES—For sale. Phone 4097-F-3. C. F. Johnson, Xenia, R. 5.

75 PUMPS—Bocklet's line of well and cistern pumps, hand electric pump, etc. Are in the best pump repairs. THE BOCKLET-KING CO., 415 W. Main St.

76 Phone 360.

77 WIRING—Fixtures and all kinds of electric appliances. H. E. Elchman Electric Shop, 52 W. Main St.

78 WHEAT DRILL—Fair condition, price $12.00. John Harbine, Allen Bldg.

79 GET IT AT DONGES

80 LOWEST PRICE—On barn and root paint. Fred Graham, S. Whittemore St.

81 FRESH CUT FLOWERS—Gladioli and asters; also floral work. R. O. Douglass, Phone 549-W, corner Washington & Monroe.

82 KING—Radio, Ace and Eveready batteries. Phone 15, Carroll-Binder, E. Main St.

83 BEDS—Victrola, furniture, sewing machine, book case, bakery oven, wagon, stove, show case. Sat. afternoons only. John Harbine, Allen Bldg.

84 MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS—RADIO

85 LOUD SPEAKER—Bargain. Far grand cone speaker, senior size. Regular price, $32.50. Can distinguish from brand new. Price $16.50. Pidgeon Battery Co., 121 S. Detroit St.

86 PIANOS—$65.00 to $350.00. Small payments. John Harbine, Allen Bldg.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS	30
FURNITURE—And stoves. Men-denhall, N. King St. Phone 735.
ROOMS FOR RENT—FURNISHED	35
WANTED—Roomers. 125 Hill St. Phone 476.
HOUSES—FLATS—UNFURNISHED	37
TWO—Apartments, No. 109 W. Main St. All modern. Prefer to rent as a whole to suit for rooms or apartments. See Harness and Bales. 17 Allen Bldg.
MISCELLANEOUS FOR RENT 40
FARM—Of 200 acres, 6 miles south of Xenia. See John Devoe, Lake St., Xenia or call C. A. Devoe, Bowersville, Ohio.
WANTED TO RENT 41
FROM 200 to 600 acres on thirds. Can furnish plenty of help, including two tractor men. Claude McCoy, Washington C. H. R. 9, Phone 29498.
HOUSES FOR SALE 42
BATHS—Five room house, gas and both water. Located on paved street. Would sell with small payment down. Prefer to sell. See Harness and Bales. 17 Allen Bldg.
SIX ROOM—Stucco bungalow, modern, water softener, and two machine garage. N. Detroit St., N. Park addition. W. P. Fox, phone 701.
$8.00—Monthly buys country home. Telephone John Harbine, Allen Bldg., Xenia.
REAL ESTATE—Houses, farms, lots, loans. John Harbine, Allen Bldg.
FARM—29 acres, 2 1/2 miles from Xenia. Sure rolling land, well watered. Five room cottage house. Barn and outbuildings. Would sell to sell if sold at once. Would include crop stock and implements. See Harness and Bales. 17 Allen Bldg.
TOM LONG—Real Estate Man. I will sell your farm and city property or will loan you money. See me. No. 9 W. Main St.

RADIO PROGRAM

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 31

International Radio Programs

ETHER'S WHITE CAPS

6:30 P. M.—WBZ (333) Springfield.

—Concert "Principato Hawaiian Trio."

9:30 P. M.—WRVA (254) Richmond.

Richmond Orchestra "Hardy's Negro Jazzy."

10:00 P. M.—CNRW (384) Winnipeg.

Studio program. Canadian National Symphonie Orchestra.

10:00 P. M.—KGO (384) Oakland.

Vacation program. Wonders of the Sky—WOW Trio—Northern Lights—Mandolin—Guitar.

SILENT CNRA, WBAL, WBRB, WCBS, WIP, WPG, WRC, KLD, KOIL, WCB, WFAA, WMC, WOW, WFAA.

CONCERTS

11:00 A.M. 12:00 Noon (E.T.) WJZ (454) N. Y. Orchestra

11:35 A.M. 12:35 P.M. (E.T.) CKC (411) Montreal. Concert.

12 Noon 1:00 P.M. (E.T.) WNOC (287) Ashby. Lunch music.

1:30 P.M. 2:20 P.M. (E.T.) CFN (357) Toronto. Studio.

2:45 P.M. 3:45 P.M. (E.T.) WOO (503) Phila. Grand Organ.

3:00 P.M. 4:00 P.M. (E.T.) WBAL (225) Balt. String Quartet.

3:45 P.M. 4:45 P.M. (E.T.) WJJD (366) Chicago. Solos.

4:30 P.M. 5:30 P.M. (E.T.) WIP (508) Phila. Solos.

5:30 P.M. 6:30 P.M. (E.T.) WTIC (461) Hartford. Duet.

5:45 P.M. 6:45 P.M. (E.T.) WTIC (476) Hartford. Raz Pickers.

WPS (361) Cincl. Chimes concert.

WOC (553) Davenport. Chimes.

6:00 P.M. 7:00 P.M. (E.T.) WCAE (517) Pitts. Recital.

WOW (608) Omaha. Riviera pro.

KMA (270) Shenandoah. Carter Sisters.

6:30 P.M. 7:30 P.M. (E.T.) WBAL (286) Balt. String Quartet.

KDKA (316) Pittsburgh. Concert.

CFCC (411) Montreal. Orchestra.

6:45 P.M. 7:45 P.M. (E.T.) WABC (326) N. Y. Ladies Trio.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Peter's Adventures

BY MARY FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

"CAN IT BE AN UMBRELLA?" Peter couldn't believe that he had heard aright.
"My ears must have played me false, Tortoise. Surely you didn't say you were a hundred years old!" cried he, and he stared at his companion.

Jack-in-the-Box grinned and nodded his head.

"Not quite a hundred, but mighty near it. A few years more or less ed the discussion yourself, Jack-in-the-Box! If you hadn't mentioned your age I should never have known anything about it!" declared Peter. "Now, don't get mad, old fellow. Say, where are you going? Come back here! You haven't told me yet what happened to the three cousins who went to seek their fortunes."

Tortoise was slowly crawling off, but he halted long enough to call back over his shoulder:

"And I'm not going off, either—at least, not until I have had my luncheon. I am nearly starved; can't wait for a snack another minute. And I spy a most delicious morsel right ahead of me."

Peter looked around, expecting, of course, to see some unwary insect crossing Tortoise's path. No one in sight. What in the world was Jack-in-the-Box doing? Had the fellow gone crazy? What could he be pacing 'round and 'round in circles for? He was not running, but walking, and slowly, too. Every few steps Tortoise would halt with a jerk. What was that thing around which he was circling? It was tall and round and smooth and shiny. And it was a creamy yellow.

"What can that be?" cried Peter. "It looks like an umbrella from here." The boy's curiosity got the better of him, and he hurried after Tortoise to find out what his friend was up to.

Tomorrow "Around the Toadstool Table."

NO LONGER IGNORED

WHAT WAS THAT THING AROUND WHICH TORTOISE WAS CIRCLING? IT WAS TALL AND ROUND AND SMOOTH AND SHINY.

don't count for much in a Tortoise's life," said he.

Peter gasped.

"I can scarcely believe it," stammered the boy. "I didn't dream you were any older than I am. You are such a jolly chap. Why, I never before met any one so ancient. I should think you'd be very proud, indeed, of yourself."

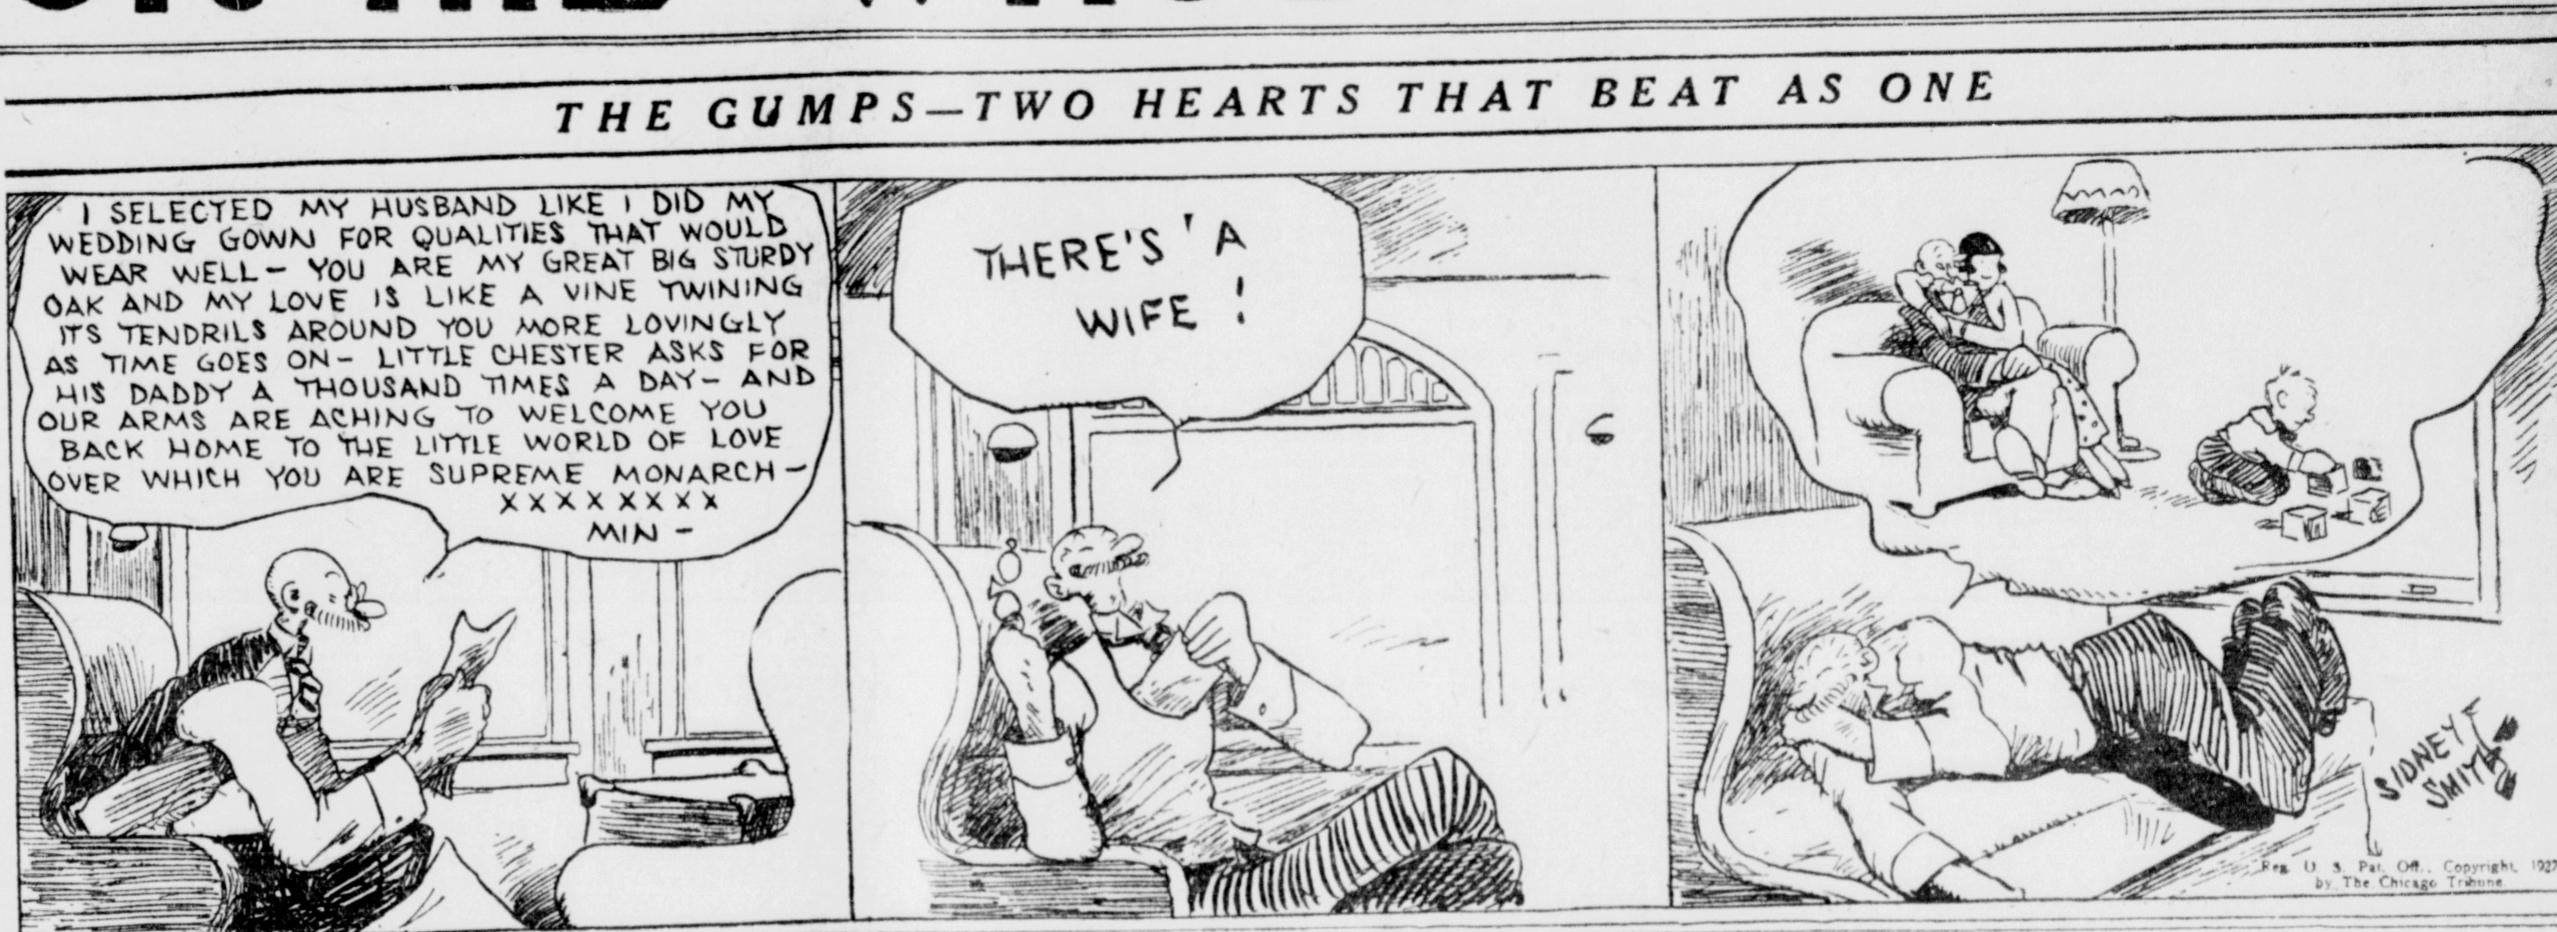

"I am," replied Jack-in-the-Box, shortly. Then he scowled. "But that is no reason why we should keep talking about it. There are lots of more pleasant subjects than age. If you were as old as I am you would realize it."

"I am very sorry, but you start-

FORLORN FIGURES

Business giant who has no more room on his office wall for slogans and mottos.

By SIDNEY SMITH

ETTA KETT

By PAUL ROBINSON

By Edwina

"CAP" STUBBS—Who's Afraid!!

By Edwina

"SKIPPY"

Copyright, P. L. Crosby, 1927, Central Press Association, Inc.

8-31

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

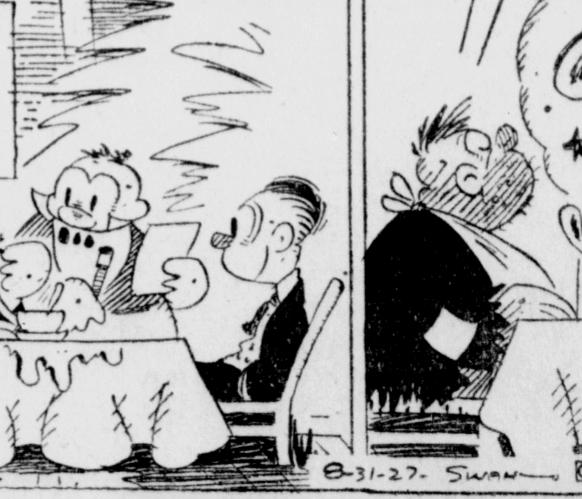

Paul Robinson

HIGH PRESSURE PETE

I'LL HAVE A DOUBLE ORDER OF BEEF STEW

By SWAN

8-31-27 Swan

The Theater

A former Springfield girl, Aynona Taylor, takes one of the featured roles in Norma Shearer's starring vehicle "After Midnight." Miss Taylor answered to the name of "Evangeline" when she attended the Clifton St., School in Springfield.

Aynona, with her family, moved her first screen role.

from Springfield several years ago to make her home in Cleveland. It was there she heard the down town picture palaces frightened of the stage and began in end. And the great down town stock. She was later featured in picture palaces are admitting it. The big fellows who must charge have demanded protection of one and "Sally" besides other New handsonly if they are to make York productions. Her appearances in "After Midnight," marks, complain that the little fellows are cleaning up at the expense of the greatest houses. Present protection is for only six months. It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist who draws the long-legged blondes, has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

ELEAZER

Mr. and Mrs. William Miller entertained friends from Hamilton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Smith and family were dinner guests Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Volch Hackney and family at Kingman. Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained Mr. and Mrs. Young and family, Dayton, Thursday evening for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corry attended the reunion of the Black family at Cambridge, Ohio, last week, remaining four days.

Mr. Wesley Bear of Richmond, Ind., was visiting relatives here last Sunday.

Mr. Alfred Swaby has returned from his Canadian camping trip. He reports fine fishing.

The 1st and 2nd Auxiliaries and Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian Church will give a 50c chicken dinner at 6 o'clock Friday, Sept. 9th, at the Community Hall.

A large number of the members of the Harris family went to London, Ohio, last Sunday to attend their family reunion.

Dr. J. Lee Hopping, accompanied

Big picture houses of Chicago, heading by Balaban and Katz, are calling of the stage and began in end. And the great down town stock. She was later featured in picture palaces are admitting it. The big fellows who must charge have demanded protection of one and "Sally" besides other New handsonly if they are to make York productions. Her appearances in "After Midnight," marks, complain that the little fellows are cleaning up at the expense of the greatest houses. Present protection is for only six months. It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist who draws the long-legged blondes, has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

CLIFTON

girls taking their dolls in go carts and the boys with their pets.

Mrs. L. J. Willenburg has returned from a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Roy Irons of Clyde, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stingley are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sims of Huntington, W. Va.

Miss Florence White returned last week from a two weeks' trip to Asbury Park, N. J., and Washington, D. C.

Mr. Stafford McCullough is restoring the old Lewis Store property which he recently bought.

The old Confare house has been restored and is being painted.

This work by Mr. McCullough for our village, is greatly appreciated by many.

The Wiggin family expect to move into their new home this week, which they built on the site of the Arthur Reed property on North St.

Mr. Lester Braley left Tuesday to spend the remainder of the week at the State Fair, Columbus, Ohio.

Postmaster Charles E. Confare, who has been quite sick, is improving.

Mrs. Esther Brooman expects to leave soon to take a nurses' training at Springfield Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Corry and Miss Gertrude Lauchian attended the Lauchian family reunion at Washington Park, Columbus, O., last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Edwards, of Cleveland, O., have been visiting relatives here the past week.

Mrs. J. G. C. Webster had a most delightful visit last Monday from Miss Nannie Lytle, of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. J. P. Lytle, of Columbus.

Mrs. H. J. Kyle and son Henry and Rev. and Mrs. Gavin Reiley are touring New York State.

The United Presbyterian Congregational picnic was held Tuesday noon, August 30th, at the church lawn.

Mrs. Edgar Tobias and children, John and Betty, are visiting Mr. Tobias' sister, in Cleveland, O.

NIGHT COUGHS STOPPED ALMOST INSTANTLY WITH ONE SWALLOW OF THOXINE

Sally's Shoulders

by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of "HER MAN", "HONEY LOU", "THE HOLLYWOOD-GIRL", ETC.

"If I had the money I'd keep house again," she whined.

always called the rattling red roadster her car, although Beau always drove it.

"Well, then, if he's with Millie, he's all right, isn't he?" asked Sally, soothingly. "You know, that car breaks down every time it runs and they'll be along pretty soon. You'd better go to bed, Mabsy, and try to get some sleep." She stopped as the purr of a high-powered car broke the night-time stillness. Something about the sound of it was familiar.

She went to the big bay window in the upstairs hall and looked out. A long roadster was just swinging into the yard. Its sides shone under the lights on the gate-posts.

As Sally watched, it slid to a standstill, and Millie got out. Sally could recognize her in the moonlight by the huge, floppy hat of white straw that she wore.

A second later Davidson jumped out, took her arm, and they came slowly towards the house. They came with uncertain steps. Millie leaning heavily against the big, square figure of the man.

The door bell rang.

By the time Sally reached the lower hall and had swung the door open, Millie was standing all alone on the porch. Nothing was to be seen of Davidson but the red tail-light of his car, as it whisked around the corner and out of sight.

"Where's Beau?" Sally asked softly, and laid a warning finger on her lips. She knew that Mabel was listening at the head of the stairs.

"Where's Beau?" repeated Millie, and she reeled a little as she came into the hall. In the bright light Sally saw that her blue eyes were glazed and that her whole face had the silly, good-natured look that some people have when they have had liquor—and far too much liquor.

The breath that came through her soft little pink mouth was heavy with the vile smell of whiskey. Her voice was thick.

"How do you know where Beau is?" she asked, heading for the stairs. "He drove me down here to 'The Lark' to meet Davy, and he picked up some girl of his and beat it with her in his car. . . . That's the last I saw of 'em."

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

"I hate to go back to Bursall's, now that I have a baby and everything. The girls will all think it so queer that I have to work again."

She found a job sooner than she expected.

"Some girl of hist!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony.

"Why, what do you mean?"

"She asked, heading for the stairs.

WEATHER—Wednesday fair; Thursday cloudy. EIGHT PAGES

XENIA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1927

VOL. XLVI. No. 208.

PRICE THREE CENTS

BRITISH PILOTS OFF FOR AMERICA

ROUND-WORLD FLYERS LEAVE BELGRADE

AUDITOR SLASHES COUNTY LAND VALUES 10 PER CENT

DETROIT PLANE OFF FOR CONSTANTINOPLE ON SCHEDULED TIME

Bad Weather Causes Stop—Entertained By Aero Club

BELGRADE, Aug. 31.—The "Pride of Detroit," round-the-world airplane piloted by Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, hopped off from the Banizifa aerodrome at 5:30 o'clock this morning for Constantinople.

The distance to Constantinople is 500 miles. The fliers hope to arrive in the Turkish capital before noon today.

Schlee and Brock adhered to the meticulous punctuality that has characterized their epochal flight thus far from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland. They arose early this morning, made the twelve mile trip from this city to the airfield in the company of municipal officials, and supervised the refueling of the "Pride of Detroit" and a final inspection of its engine.

Brock and Schlee arrived here at 11:45 yesterday morning from Munich, Germany. They had originally planned to proceed directly to Constantinople, but reports of adverse weather conditions near Sofia caused them to stop here. The weather bureau warned that the storm would continue throughout the afternoon, so the round-the-world fliers decided to lay over until this morning.

During their stay in this city, the fliers were guests of the American legation, and last night attended a banquet given in their honor by the Yugoslav Aero Club.

The Detroit airmen said they were intensely disappointed over the delay, but expressed the belief they would be able to make up for lost time within the next two or three days. Brock and Schlee are out to break the present record of 28 and one-half days for a trip around the world.

MAY CONTROL LONG DISTANCE FLYING

DAYTON, O., Aug. 31—Orville Wright and Brig. Gen. William E. Gilmore, have been named to a committee which will work out details for the control of long distance stunt flying. They are to meet in Washington next week, according to information received here. Appointment was made by the National Aeronautical Association. Wright is to be the chairman of the committee. One proposal projected thus far is that laws would be enacted and authority vested in an "air secretary" of the department of commerce to regulate, control or forbid such flights.

Brig. General Gilmore, chief of the material division of the U. S. Air Corps at Wright field, has definite ideas concerning such spectacular flights as the Dole undertaking which has ended so disastrously for the civilian pilots.

PLANE INJURIES FATAL

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 31.—Injured when an antiquated airplane crashed at Bettis Field, McKeesport, Sunday, Clifford Burnworth, student pilot, died in a hospital today. James T. Clawson, street car conductor and airman who was piloting the plane at the time, was killed.

A NEW RECIPE EVERY DAY!

By
Mrs. Mary Morton
CLIP IT!

Just one of the many home features in the

Gazette

CUTS $4,000,000 FROM GRAND TAX DUPLICATE

Reduction Applies Only To Real Estate—Auditor Wead Says Values Decreased Since Appraisal—Expect New Budgets

County Auditor R. O. Wead has ordered a reduction of 10 per cent in all land values within Greene County, to take effect in the valuations on the tax duplicate for December, 1927.

The total reduction will amount to approximately $4,000,000, reducing the grand tax duplicate for Greene County in 1927 to $54,000,000, which still represents, however an increase of $4,000,000 over the 1926 duplicate.

This reduction applies to land only and will have no effect on the values of improvements on individual tracts of land.

The 10 per cent reduction was decided upon by Auditor Wead after he had made an exhaustive study of real estate values within the county and found there has been a decided reduction in land values within the past eighteen months and since the re-appraisal of 1926, as approved by the State Tax Commission.

In making the reduction, Auditor Wead is acting under authority granted in Section 5548-1, Ohio General Code.

Approximately 25,000 tracts of land in the county are affected by the announcement.

The reduction will result in raising tax rates of the various taxing districts but will mean a lowering of taxes on land. It is considered probable no particular saving in taxes will result this year because various political subdivisions are presenting increased budget requests.

Auditor Wead declares the reduction is being made in consideration of justice to the real estate owners.

The drop in land values has occurred since the last property re-appraisal, for as a whole, the appraisal was considered unusually satisfactory. This is indicated because only 183 complaints were submitted to the County Board of Revision by property owners who were of the opinion the re-appraisal in certain instances was too high.

A comparison of records discloses, that while only 183 complaints were made on the 25,000 tracts of land appraised in Greene County, other Ohio counties of the size of Greene had as many as 3,000 complaints.

As an example, not a single complaint was received from land owners in New Jasper Twp.

ADMIRAL JIMMIE MANAGES ENTRIES

AKRON, O., Aug. 31.—Eight men, who yesterday flogged Alfred Harris, 55, Kent, Ohio, furniture dealer, with knotted ropes, are sought by Portage and Summit County authorities. It was said that several suspects will be questioned.

Harris is suffering from serious lacerations on his back and from shock.

Harris said he was flogged because of his denunciation of George Trahern, police chief of Kent, whom he often accused of having bungled the investigation of the murder of Clayton Apple, night patrolman, two years ago.

Harris had prepared a petition to Governor A. V. Donahey on the Apple murder, and had obtained 700 signatures. It was this petition that the floggers demanded when they accosted him in his workshop shortly after midnight Monday.

When Harris refused to surrender the petition the masked bandit beat him severely, choked him and finally threw him into an automobile and transported him to a lonely spot on the Kent-Darroville Road, in Summit County, where he was flogged.

When Harris made his way to the Summit County Jail here he was in such condition that he had difficulty in telling of his flogging. He was taken to a hospital for treatment, and there again denounced Trahern, who called to question him about the flogging.

Patrick Hutcheson, private detective and former sheriff, was with Harris when Trahern called, and was informed that private sources would be used to find and punish the floggers.

Upon arrival here he was decorated as "admiral" and the title stuck to him.

REPORT SHOWS COST

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Aug. 31.—Women residents of the Belmont County Infirmary are wearing oxfords that cost five dollars and a half a pair, according to a report of state examiners, filed here. The report shows that women's slippers were purchased for three and a half a pair, and that men's suits were bought for fifteen dollars each.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

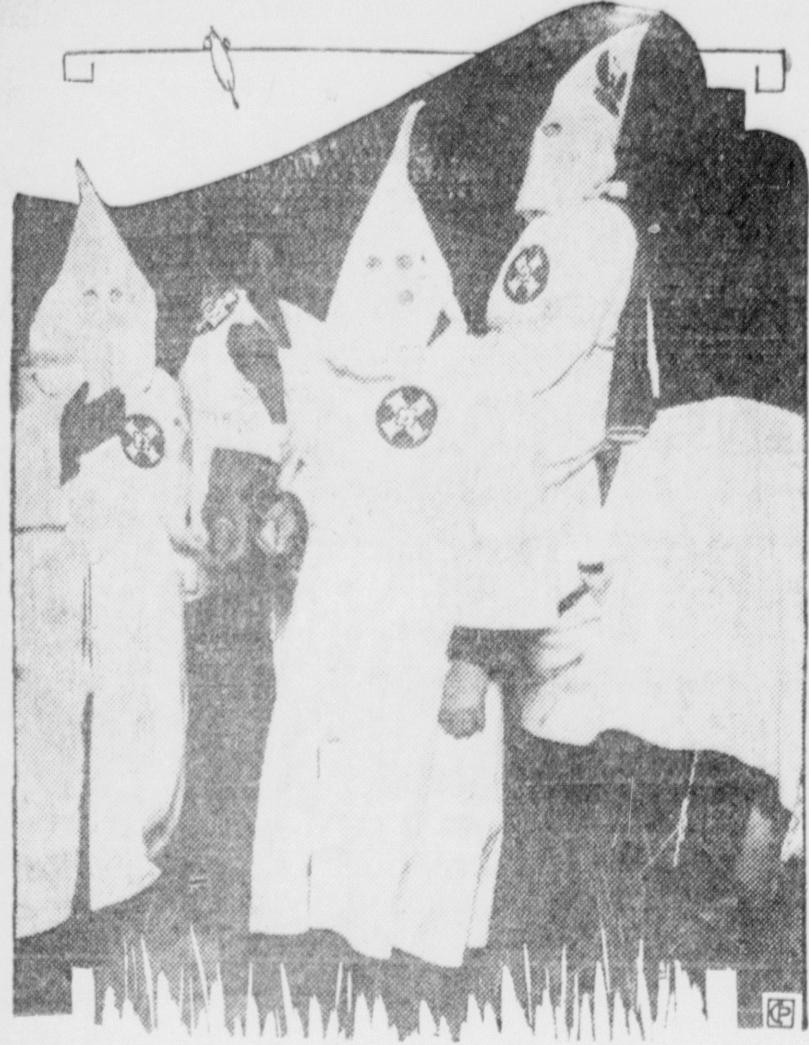

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked to be released by Trinity M. E. Church a year ago June, but was petitioned to remain by the congregation when the West Ohio Conference met in September and he was re-assigned to the Xenia charge. His second "resignation" will be taken up when the conference meets again.

The Rev. Dr. Brown gave as his reason for desiring to leave Xenia the fact that he had served the local pastorate eight years and had received offers for other work, which interested him. "My eight years in Xenia have been most pleasant to both Mrs. Brown and myself but we think we have been here long enough," Dr. Brown said Wednesday.

He asked

STEPHENSON LETTERS SNEAKED FROM CELL MAKE GRAVE CHARGES

D. C. STEPHENSON ON HORSEBACK IN KLAN REGALIA, WITH TWO OF HIS LIEUTENANTS.

IX
By BONITA WITTStaff Writer for Central Press
and The Evening Gazette

(In this installment, Stephenson begins to make his alleged disclosures.)

As soon as D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, began to serve his sentence at Michigan City for the murder of Miss Madge Obernoiter, young Indianapolis girl, stories began to leak out of the prison that "Steve" would talk if given a chance. Thomas Adams, Vincennes publisher, and his committee of editors, in the course of their investigations of alleged corruption in Indiana, sought to see the former Klan leader and hear his story, but they were refused admittance.

Stephenson managed to smuggle a letter out of the prison bearing the caption "What Stephenson Could Tell." Excerpts from it follow:

"He could explain where and how $200,000 was used in the campaign of 1924 to buy votes and to stuff ballot boxes with spurious votes."

Stephenson's Broadsides
"He could tell why concrete was substituted for asphalt in the paving of certain streets, and he could tell who profited by the manipulation."

"He could tell about laws being passed to impose a heavy and unlawful tax upon the public, and were later declared unconstitutional in lawsuits started by the men who inspired their passage for no reason except to create an impression with the voters that these public officials were devoted to the interests of the taxpayers."

"Briefly stated, if D. C. Stephenson could and would talk, his knowledge of dishonesty in public affairs would create a state scandal that would make Pennsylvania and Illinois look like pokers."

Still Another Smuggled Letter
In an effort to make himself heard, in another letter, smuggled to Thomas Adams, Stephenson said:

"I have in a place of security the following described documents:

"1. A written contract by the terms of which a certain prominent official of the state of Indiana agreed to pay me the sum of $25,000, or three times the amount I expended in his behalf for election."

"2. I have notes representing the above amount signed by the official."

"3. I have a written memorandum signed by the same official acknowledging the amounts expended by me in his behalf to be $225,000, or one-third of the sum above mentioned. This memo recites an agreement whereby I lose all if he is beaten in the election but receive three-fourths if he wins."

What Stephenson Says

"4. A written agreement with the mayors of three large cities in Indiana, binding them to pay me a ratio of three-for-one for all the money I advanced in their behalf, and further agreements are in my possession where these same men agree to allow certain individuals to name all appointments."

"5. I hold two photographic copies (and the plate) of an agreement between the mayor of a large city and an organization political to name all the city employees of a certain class. I also have affidavits of reputable men who saw the photograph made from the original. I later delivered the original to the politician to whom it was addressed by the mayor."

"6. I have perhaps thirty or forty contracts with less important officials, who have agreed to repay me for funds advanced to them for political purposes."

Explains Why He Kept Quiet
Stephenson explains his silence at the time of his indictment by saying "I refrained from issuing public statements because I was assured of acquittal."

"I was told, "Steve," this is but a blow to us all. You sit tight and let them rave. You can take abuse better than anyone in the crowd. We will take care of you. They did! They planted me where I cannot have access to my own $75,000 since I have been in prison."

Politicians said Stephenson was trying to make himself "big" with general charges. But the people began to be restless. They demanded a grand jury investigation.

Yet, Adams found men afraid to act.

(Another Installment Tomorrow)

ROOF PAINTS
Special Prices on Barn and Roof Paints
GRAHAM'S
Wall Paper, Paints, and Glass
Phone No. 3

THE MOST TIRE FOR THE MONEY SPENT

XENIA AUTO NECESSITY CO.
"TOM AND DICK—THE TIRE BOYS"
Phone 533 For Road Service.

ORPHIUM
TONIGHT
"DAME CHANCE"
A dynamic drama from the novel by Frances Nordstrom in 7 thrilling reels.
With Robert Frazer, Julianne Johnston, Gertrude Astor and Mary Carr
Also a PATHE 2 Reel Comedy
Admission 20¢

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
William Fox Presents

TOM MIX

In a breath-taking story of the Fighting Texas Rangers
"Outlaws of Red River"

Also a Mack Sennett 2 reel comedy and PATHE NEWS
Admission 20¢

Cedarville News

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clemens and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Townsley motor to Cincinnati Thursday for a few days visit with Prof. F. M. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Walt Purdum.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spencer and daughter, Wilma, spent the week end in Dayton with Mr. and Mrs. Roll Shultz.

Misses Lucile and Eleanor Johnson and Kenneth Little returned home Friday evening after a two day stay at Geneva on the Lake and Beaver Falls, Pa.

Misses Eleanor Johnson, Kathryn Hughes and Helen Iliffe gave a "shower" at the home of Miss Johnson Tuesday afternoon honoring Miss Lucile Ritenour.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Galloway gave a six o'clock dinner to a few of their friends Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Funnell who leave next week for their new home in Noblesville, Ind.

Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Hamilton had for their guest Wednesday, Miss Flora Roberts of Springfield, O.

Rev. Ernest McClellan and wife who have been visiting here for two weeks returned to their home in Rochester, N. Y., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Siegler, who have been spending a week in Marietta, O., with their son, Prof. G. F. Siegler and wife returned home Saturday, accompanied by their son and daughter-in-law.

Miss Virginia Hill of Columbus and Miss Thelma Talkington of Chester, O., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ewbank.

Miss Elizabeth Creswell, who has been spending the summer in Chicago, again home this week.

Mrs. John A. Gregg and two children of Cambridge, Miss., are here on a two weeks' visit with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Ritchie.

Officers searched the car a second time and located four additional gallons under the front seat.

EAST END NEWS
MRS. JAMES HARRIS
Correspondent
TEL. 91-R

Rev. F. A. Jurkat, wife and son, Elmer, left Thursday for a ten days' visit in Pittsburgh and New Galilee, Pa.

Mrs. Anna M. Townsley left Saturday on a trip to Niagara Falls, Canada, Buffalo and Cleveland.

Mrs. Louise Ewbank, who was operated upon for gall stones at the McClellan Hospital, Xenia, returned home Monday.

Mr. Harold Ray, of Michigan University was visiting friends here the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kyle spent a few days here this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kyle.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lackey and daughter Alice attended the reunion of the Lackey family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robbins in Troy, last Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. Merle Rife and family left Tuesday for their new home in Tarkio, Mo., where Rev. Rife will become a member of the faculty of Tarkio and Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mitchell and their son-in-law, George Confer of Dayton, spent the weekend at Paw Paw Lake, Mich., at the home of Mrs. Mitchell's sister, Mrs. Sam Petty.

Mrs. Lawrence Gillough had for their guests for several days last week, Mr. and Mrs. Roy

Own a Diamond By Christmas

JOIN OUR CHRISTMAS DIAMOND CLUB

By Making a Small Payment Each Week On
The Ring You Select.

Tiffany Jewelry Store

PERFECT DIAMONDS

THE PANTRY

129 E. Main St.

WILL FURNISH

"BESTOV BLEND"

COFFEE

—AT—

The Modern Woodmen
AND Royal Neighbor Picnic

FAMOUS

Radio "B" Batteries

45 VOLT REGULAR $1.95

45 VOLT HEAVY DUTY

$3.00

GUARANTEED

FAMOUS AUTO SUPPLY CO.

SECOND CHOICES

William K. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Rosamond Warburton (shown above) are to marry, their intentions having been published in Paris. Vanderbilt and his wife were recently divorced after having been separated for almost two decades. His attentions to Mrs. Warburton were commented upon before she and her husband were divorced.

Leighly pleaded guilty and was remanded to the County Jail to work out the fine and costs in default of payment.

He was arrested Tuesday morning on the Federal Pike, by Kenneth C. Barr, county road patrolman, while his car was parked along the road.

The first search of the car disclosed only one gallon. However, under questioning by Judge Wright at the hearing, Leighly admitted he had hidden five gallons in the machine.

Officers searched the car a second time and located four additional gallons under the front seat.

Uncle Sam's postal service is out-classed as a carrier from country to city. Modern milk delivery has the edge on mail delivery, according to a comparison of the two by H. D. Eckert, a director of the Scioto Valley Milk Producers' Cooperative Association.

In making this comparison Mr. Eckert used actual experience. He has relatives living on a farm 50 miles from Columbus. He found that if a can of milk were set on the farm platform ready for the milk truck, and a letter dropped in to the rural mail box at the same time, that the milk would be transported to Columbus, pasteurized, bottled and delivered to the doorstep of the consumer several hours before the letter would reach a city resident by carrier.

As for cost, figuring both milk and mail on the basis of weight in ounces, the milk handler can also beat Uncle Sam, Mr. Eckert said.

Compared with the two cents an ounce for first-class mail, the marketing costs on milk would not exceed two mills an ounce, or approximately one-tenth the rate on mail.

"This does not mean," comments Professor C. G. McBride of the rural economics department of the Ohio State University, "that there is no room for improvement and reduction of marketing costs in the handling of milk, but so long as matters are no worse than this, it is not likely that consumers will turn in any large numbers to the use of synthetic cows that may be kept in cities."

In the letter to the editor, Mr. Eckert said:

"Rev. F. M. and Rev. E. L. Liggins have returned to their homes in Clarksburg, W. Va., having been called here by the death of their father Lucious Liggins.

Mrs. Lucy Bayliss and Mary Liggins, Essie Clayton, Allomaine, Catherine and Robert Scott of Chillicothe, O., have returned to their homes having been here to attend the funeral of Lucious Liggins.

Morris Harvey and Mary Wright, Sallie and Roy Williams and Sadie Stewart of Frankfort, O., were also here to attend the funeral of Lucious Liggins.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lackey and daughter Alice attended the reunion of the Lackey family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robbins in Troy, last Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. Merle Rife and family left Tuesday for their new home in Tarkio, Mo., where Rev. Rife will become a member of the faculty of Tarkio and Pittsburg.

Relatives have received word of the death of Mrs. Sarah Steward of Sidney. She was well known here. The funeral services will be Thursday afternoon.

SAVE HERE ON USED CARS

1923 DODGE TOURING

1927 FORD ROADSTER

1924 FORD FORDOR

1926 FORD ROADSTER

1926 DODGE SEDAN

1925 STAR TOURING

JOHNSTON MOTOR SALES

109 West Main St.

CROSLEY

Better RADIO Costs Less

Authorized Sales and Service.

A. C. Dayton Dealers

We service all makes of sets.

HAGLER & WEAVER

19 S. Detroit St. Phone 35

By Mrs. Virginia Lee

Mrs. Lee is the friend of everybody. To the thousands of persons who write to her column "Living and Loving," she gives her kindly attention and prescribes sound, unsentimental advice.

She knows thousands of secrets that persons would not entrust to their own mothers, and she has never violated a confidence.

All you need to do is to have Mrs. Lee for a friend is to write her frankly, signing your name as evidence of good faith. She never reveals names of correspondents; initials or pseudonyms are signed to letters that are published.

Even if you have no troubles to tell Mrs. Lee, you will find her column vitally interesting.

A Daily Feature in the
GAZETTE

Yellow Springs

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Garlough celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary with a family dinner Wednesday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Rife and Miss Carrie Rife, of Cedarville; R. J. Corry and Mrs. Mabel Corry Binnig and two sons, Roger and Walter, of near Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Garlough and Mrs. Marie Goode, Yellow Springs, and Jay P. Garlough, of Holland, Mich.

Mrs. Lydia Denison went to London, Saturday, to spend a few days with her sister.

Dr. R. Earp and family, who have been connected with the college for the past four years will leave the first of September for Boulder, Colo., where he hopes to regain his health. Prof. English and family, who were at Antioch two years ago, will return and occupy the house vacated by the Earps.

Prof. L. R. Gibbs and family will return to Miami, Florida, Thursday, after having spent the summer here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lacey and daughter, Miss Helen, are enjoying a motor trip through Ohio. They are visiting in Newark and will later visit in Seventeen, Tuscarawas County, returning home about the third of September.

Miss Naomi Shellhaas of Ludlow Falls spent the past week with her cousin, Miss Hazel Brewer.

Miss Marie Hamma, of Dayton, spent part of last week with her mother,

Society-Personal-Clubs

THE NICEST courtesy you can show your guests is to have their visits mentioned on this page. The nicest courtesy you can show your friends is to let them learn of your visits through this page whenever you go away. The Gazette and Republican consider it a courtesy whenever you turn in an item of any kind. PHONE 70-

RECITAL FOR TWO PIANOS THURSDAY

Miss Marguerite M. Williams and her pupils, Frances Anderson, Imogene Dean Charlotte Johannes Ruby Johnston, Emma LeMar and Thelma Tindall are inviting the general public to attend a recital of music for two pianos Thursday evening, September 1, at 8 o'clock at the Reformed Church, Xenia.

Miss Williams is now opening her fall classes in piano pupils. The program of the recital will be as follows:

Priest's March, from "Athalia"

Mendelssohn

Misses Le Mar, Dean, Johannes, Anderson

Soldiers' Chorus, from "Faust"

Gounod

Misses Johannes, Tindall, LeMar,

Dean

Minnetto Gajoso Mozart

Misses Dean, Johnston, Anderson,

Tindall

Jubelfeier Kramer

Misses Johannes, Dean, Le Mar,

Anderson

Sonata in C Mozart

Sicilienne Bach

Misses Johannes and Le Mar

Polonaise Brillante Deevere

Misses Le Mar, Tindall, Johannes,

Anderson

Military March Schubert

Misses Johannes, Dean, Le Mar,

Tindall

Butterfly Grieg

Country Dance Nevin

Misses Le Mar and Johannes

Overture to "The Magic Flute"

..... Mozart

Misses Le Mar, Dean, Johannes,

Anderson

March from "Tannhauser"

..... Wagner

Misses Williams, Le Mar, Johannes

Anderson

MR. AND MRS. JOHNSON ENTERTAIN FRIENDS SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson, near Jamestown, were host and hostess to a number of friends, Sunday, who called with well-filled baskets for a picnic dinner.

All enjoyed the social gathering in the afternoon. Those present were Elder C. P. Ballard, Blanchester; Mr. and Mrs. John Chenoweth and son, Earle and daughters, May and Mabel, Oregonia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Evans, Miss Alice Chenoweth, all of Waynesville; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shambaugh, near Harveysburg; Mr. Joseph Buckwater and son, James and daughter, Bessie and niece, Miss Jennie Tyson, of Needmore; Mr. and Mrs. William Gerard, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, all of near Jamestown.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR MR. LAWRENCE LILE

Sixty neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. Lawrence Lile on the Cincinnati Pike, Saturday evening to celebrate his birthday. The lawn was lighted with electric lights and a picnic supper was served at two long tables placed on the lawn. A large birthday cake, decorated in pink and white, with the date in icing, centered the table.

The evening was spent in a social way.

The group leaders of Sara M. Chew, a branch of the Woman's Home Missionary Society, Trinity M. E. Church, met at the home of the president, Mrs. B. U. Bell, recently when group leaders made out programs for the year. The group leaders are Mrs. J. J. Stout, Mrs. Harold Owens, Mrs. Clara Reutering and Mrs. Alvin Conklin. The society will hold its first meeting Monday, September 12, at Mrs. H. C. Aultman's. Mrs. Reutering's group will be in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Beatty will enjoy a motor trip to Louisville and Lexington, Ky., over the weekend.

Lal Bagh, the Foreign Missionary Society, Trinity M. E. Church, will meet September 13, instead of Monday, September 6, with Mrs. John Ary, S. Monroe St. Mrs. H. C. Aultman's group will have charge. This will be the last meeting of the conference year and a full report of the work will be given. Mrs. Ary will be assisted by Mrs. F. C. Bishop, Mrs. W. B. Chew, Mrs. Lois T. Olcott, Mrs. J. J. Stout, Mrs. Paul Fetz, Mrs. Maude Starke, and Mrs. H. C. Aultman.

Mr. J. H. Canaday of the Stout Coal Co., is taking his vacation and is attending the Ohio State Fair at Columbus.

Mrs. Charles Cross and daughter, Miss Winifred Hill, St., have returned from a two weeks' vacation at Russell's Point and Waterbury Resort.

Mrs. W. H. McGervy will enter the choir of Trinity M. E. Church, Friday night, honoring Dr. and Mrs. V. F. Brown, who are leaving soon for conference at Delaware. Mrs. Brown will be honored by her Sunday School class Thursday evening.

Xenia W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at the home of Miss Jenine M. Thomas, E. Third St., at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Sone, New York City, arrived in Xenia Monday for a visit with Mrs. Sone's father and mother, Professor and Mrs. G. J. Graham.

Miss Wilson, New Vienna, O., representative to the Ohio Rebekah Assembly, will be present at the regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge at the lodge hall Thursday evening and give a report on the assembly. The meeting has been called for 7:30 o'clock. Team practice will be held and a large attendance is sought. Refreshments will also be served at the meeting.

Ladies' Aid Society, First Presbyterian Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Armstrong, N. King St., at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. Ralph O. Wead and Mrs. Paul Cresswell will be assistant hostesses.

ANNUAL BEAVER GRADED SCHOOL PUPILS TO MEET

The annual reunion of the Beaver Graded School will be held Labor Day at the grove at the Beaver Reformed Church, it was announced Wednesday. In case of rain, the reunion will be held in the church basement.

A picnic dinner will be enjoyed at noon, followed by a program in the afternoon. Mrs. Bertha Trebein Flynn will give the address of welcome, and the Rev. Arthur Leaming will pronounce the invocation. Mrs. Orpha Dillingham, and Mrs. Newton Ledbetter will give a duet and Mr. Horace Ankeney will give a recitation. The "schoolroom" program will be augmented with a chorus on the type of the "old singin' school" composed of old pupils.

Mrs. Ernest Bradford is president of the organization and Mrs. Charles Ankeney is secretary.

MRS. SHAFFER IS HOSTESS TUESDAY

Mrs. Rosa Shaffer graciously received a company of guests at her home on W. Third St., Tuesday afternoon, for tea. The guests were received at 4 o'clock and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

Late summer flowers were used about the reception rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lucas, South Solon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morrow and son, Glenn Russell, Mr. and Mrs. William Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Stephens and little son "Billy Bob" Parker, Ind., Mr. James Stephens, Muncie, Ind., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Johnson, near Jamestown, Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Furstenberger, Mrs. John Acton and Mrs. Robert Doran, of the Xenia U. B. Church, left Wednesday morning for Cincinnati, to attend the U. B. Conference. The Rev. and Mrs. Furstenberger were given a rising vote of confidence and appreciation at the Sunday services and their return to the Xenia pastorale will be asked by the delegates to the conference.

The Rev. Lester L. Bickett and family, Rossville, Ind., are visiting the Rev. Mr. Bickett's father, Mr. D. Bickett, W. Main St.

Capt. and Mrs. Morris Berman, Wilbur Wright Field, have gone to Chicago for a two weeks' stay.

Mrs. D. E. Turner, W. Second St. is entertaining Mrs. Lucy Haines and daughter, of Kenton, Mrs. F. L. Haines and daughter, Mrs. Cochran, Urbana, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan C. Swinnerton, Yellow Springs, returned Tuesday night from New York State where they spent two months.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Erbaugh and son, William, returned to their home in Yellow Springs Tuesday night from a ten days' trip up the Ohio River to Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. H. J. Clifford, who has been visiting at the home of his mother, Mrs. E. J. Wilkins, W. Market St., for the past two months, left Monday for San Francisco, Calif.

William Ertle, 17, Lebanon, who was seriously injured when a machine in which he was riding struck a bridge which collapsed near Lebanon, recently, has been removed to the home of his mother, Mrs. John Keiter, W. Second St. His right arm is broken in five places and he is otherwise painfully hurt.

"Miss Doran was one of the best teachers a person ever had," Richard will tell anyone. "She never spanked very hard, and then she always hit us kids on the hand, just a little. I guess we deserved a lot of it. Gee, she was nice, though."

Marjorie's Very Own Plan

While Richard worried over Miss Doran's fate, little Marjorie Moore, nine, put into effect a plan of her own. Marjorie began saving her pennies, doing without ice cream cones and "shows" in order that her small fund might grow all the faster.

"As soon as I get enough money," Marjorie said, as she helped hunt for a picture of Miss Doran at her home, "I'm going to spend it for a trip to California. Then I'm going to help them hunt for Miss Doran."

Marjorie is the type of little girl who dreams a great deal. The other night she had a dream.

"It was the neatest dream," she said. "I dreamt that I took an airplane and found Miss Doran. She was so glad to see me. I picked her up and we came back to Caro in my plane. All the people just hollered they were so glad to see her back again."

Among First to Know

Then there is Geraldine Jones, a little eleven-year-old, who hasn't missed an edition of the city papers distributed in Caro since Miss Doran, John Auggy Pedlar, pilot, and Lieutenant V. R. Knope, navigator, flew away in the plane named after the young teacher.

"I think I was one of the first persons Miss Doran told that she was going to make the trip," Geraldine said, proudly, as she scanned some headlines in a vain hunt for the good news. "I didn't want her to go. I was afraid. You know the Pacific ocean is awful big, and airplanes aren't so good, anyway."

Richard Goodell isn't the only boy pupil in Miss Doran's fifth grade who longs for her return to Caro. There is Johnny Cleton, ten, who lives near Richard, and there is Duart Odgen, ten, who liked Miss Doran lots, though little girls still talk about the time Miss Doran gave Odgen a good shaking for "acting up."

The children are not alone in Caro in their wish to again see the sprightly young "school ma'am." Everyone in this small central Michigan town seems to have known the girl and to have been captivated by her ways.

A Model for Her Child

The mother of Iva Goodwin, eleven, one of Miss Doran's pupils, believed that the teacher was an ideal model for her own little girl. Miss Doran visited the Goodwin home often and would talk over Iva's future with her mother.

In Caro's quiet main street is a small restaurant where Miss Doran

IT'S DORAN

CARO, Mich., Aug. 31.—The world is wrong when it pronounces the last name of Miss Mildred Doran, lost flying school "ma'am" as DO-RAN, according to Maxine Stovell, 11, one of Miss Doran's former fifth grade pupils.

"Her name is DOR-an," Maxine confided to a newspaper man. "She'd be mad if she knew folks called her DO-RAN."

Richard and found Miss Doran. She was so glad to see me. I picked her up and we came back to Caro in my plane. All the people just hollered they were so glad to see her back again."

Among First to Know

Then there is Geraldine Jones, a little eleven-year-old, who hasn't missed an edition of the city papers distributed in Caro since Miss Doran, John Auggy Pedlar, pilot, and Lieutenant V. R. Knope, navigator, flew away in the plane named after the young teacher.

"I think I was one of the first persons Miss Doran told that she was going to make the trip," Geraldine said, proudly, as she scanned some headlines in a vain hunt for the good news. "I didn't want her to go. I was afraid. You know the Pacific ocean is awful big, and airplanes aren't so good, anyway."

Richard Goodell isn't the only boy pupil in Miss Doran's fifth grade who longs for her return to Caro. There is Johnny Cleton, ten, who lives near Richard, and there is Duart Odgen, ten, who liked Miss Doran lots, though little girls still talk about the time Miss Doran gave Odgen a good shaking for "acting up."

The children are not alone in Caro in their wish to again see the sprightly young "school ma'am." Everyone in this small central Michigan town seems to have known the girl and to have been captivated by her ways.

A Model for Her Child

The mother of Iva Goodwin, eleven, one of Miss Doran's pupils, believed that the teacher was an ideal model for her own little girl. Miss Doran visited the Goodwin home often and would talk over Iva's future with her mother.

In Caro's quiet main street is a small restaurant where Miss Doran

IT'S DORAN

CARO, Mich., Aug. 31.—The world is wrong when it pronounces the last name of Miss Mildred Doran, lost flying school "ma'am" as DO-RAN, according to Maxine Stovell, 11, one of Miss Doran's former fifth grade pupils.

"Her name is DOR-an," Maxine confided to a newspaper man. "She'd be mad if she knew folks called her DO-RAN."

Richard and found Miss Doran. She was so glad to see me. I picked her up and we came back to Caro in my plane. All the people just hollered they were so glad to see her back again."

Among First to Know

Then there is Geraldine Jones, a little eleven-year-old, who hasn't missed an edition of the city papers distributed in Caro since Miss Doran, John Auggy Pedlar, pilot, and Lieutenant V. R. Knope, navigator, flew away in the plane named after the young teacher.

"I think I was one of the first persons Miss Doran told that she was going to make the trip," Geraldine said, proudly, as she scanned some headlines in a vain hunt for the good news. "I didn't want her to go. I was afraid. You know the Pacific ocean is awful big, and airplanes aren't so good, anyway."

Richard Goodell isn't the only boy pupil in Miss Doran's fifth grade who longs for her return to Caro. There is Johnny Cleton, ten, who lives near Richard, and there is Duart Odgen, ten, who liked Miss Doran lots, though little girls still talk about the time Miss Doran gave Odgen a good shaking for "acting up."

The children are not alone in Caro in their wish to again see the sprightly young "school ma'am." Everyone in this small central Michigan town seems to have known the girl and to have been captivated by her ways.

A Model for Her Child

The mother of Iva Goodwin, eleven, one of Miss Doran's pupils, believed that the teacher was an ideal model for her own little girl. Miss Doran visited the Goodwin home often and would talk over Iva's future with her mother.

In Caro's quiet main street is a small restaurant where Miss Doran

IT'S DORAN

CARO, Mich., Aug. 31.—The world is wrong when it pronounces the last name of Miss Mildred Doran, lost flying school "ma'am" as DO-RAN, according to Maxine Stovell, 11, one of Miss Doran's former fifth grade pupils.

"Her name is DOR-an," Maxine confided to a newspaper man. "She'd be mad if she knew folks called her DO-RAN."

Richard and found Miss Doran. She was so glad to see me. I picked her up and we came back to Caro in my plane. All the people just hollered they were so glad to see her back again."

Among First to Know

Then there is Geraldine Jones, a little eleven-year-old, who hasn't missed an edition of the city papers distributed in Caro since Miss Doran, John Auggy Pedlar, pilot, and Lieutenant V. R. Knope, navigator, flew away in the plane named after the young teacher.

EDITORIAL

The Evening Gazette and The Morning Republican published daily except Sunday at the Gazette Building, South Dixie St., Xenia, Ohio, by the Chew Publishing Company, Inc. Entered as second-class matter under act of March 3rd, 1879, at the Postoffice, Xenia, Ohio.

Members of "Ohio Select List" Daily Newspapers. Robert E. Ward, Inc., Foreign Advertising Representative, Chicago Office, No. 5 South Wabash Avenue, New York Office, 501 Fifth Avenue.

NEW SUBSCRIPTION RATES
1 Mo. 3 Mo. 6 Mo. 1 Yr.
In Greene County $1.40 $1.60 $1.90 $3.50
Zones 1 and 215 .15 .25 .40
Zones 3, 4 and 580 .80 .240 .450
Zones 6 and 755 .55 .25 .50
Zone 840 .40 .20 .50

By carrier in Xenia, 15 cents per week. Single copy, three cents.

Business Office—111 TELEPHONE Editorial Rooms—70

Advertising and Business Offices 111
Circulation Department 800
Editorial Department 70

BIBLE THOUGHT

A GOOD PRACTICE.—It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto Thy name, O Most High. Psalm 92:1.

USE OF SCHOOL VACATIONS

The school vacations are about over, and it is about time for the young crowd to get back into the school room.

The old theory of vacations was that children were so exhausted by their lessons that it was necessary for them to quit for about 10 weeks, to recover sufficient vitality to dig into their books for one more year. That was when lessons were made so uninteresting that a live boy or girl naturally got headache doing them.

In these days school lessons are not treated in that dull way. The children feel some incentive to learn, consequently the idea of vacation is not so much to rest exhausted pupils, as to give them a chance of activity. It is not considered well for them to spend their vacation idly. If they have not had plenty of good activity this vacation, the rest time has not given them what they need. Their parents should plan something better next time.

HANGING ON TO FORTUNE

Even if, as a Chicago paper says, the late J. Ogden Armour left an estate of only $20,000 after having lost from $1,000,000 to $150,000,000 in speculation and unfortunate business ventures, it would be unwise to draw the inference that the fortunes of wealthy American families are apt to take wings and disappear in two or three generations. The facts, indeed, are all the other way. To be sure, George Gould, who was most incompetent as a business man, managed to drop a large part of the great estate accumulated by his father, but these two exceptions seem to prove the rule.

For a century and more the Astors, the Vanderbilts and the Morgans have been rolling up vast wealth. For over half that period John D. Rockefeller has been doing the same, ably abetted by his son and namesake. The Marshall Fields, the McCormicks, the Drexels and other well-known families have been hardly less successful in the game. Carnegie could have left an enormous fortune if he had so desired. Great riches piled up through several generations of endeavoring have a way of sticking in the families.

Mr. Armour's case was a very striking exception. He too, could have died immensely wealthy, through the great business left to him by his father, if he had not cherished an ambition to dominate the grain and provision markets of the world. The mania for speculation proved his undoing. Those with more conservative instincts seem to have no great difficulty in holding on to the millions that their ancestors gathered up.

The Way of the World

By GROVE PATTERSON
PILGRIMS

Some time ago 1,800 school children from Iowa and Missouri were carried on three special trains to the tomb of Lincoln in Springfield, Ill. They will not forget the trip. Their interest in Lincoln and their appreciation of the meaning of the life of the Great Emancipator will be intensified for life.

Why not more pilgrimages for youth to American shrines? No boy or girl can look into the little cabin in Hodgenville, Ky., where Lincoln was born, or walk through the rooms of Mt. Vernon and the halls of Monticello—no boy or girl can do this and ever be quite the same again.

LOSING BEAUTY FOR WHAT?

Translations of the Bible in modern English add little, while they take away a great deal. The old, authorized version of the Bible has the simplicity and beauty and rhythm of fine poetry. Calling Noah's ark a "barge," and the Garden of Eden a park, and a "mess of pottage" a "red omelet" is making a poor substitution. Language beautifully used is rare enough. It's too bad to take out of the Bible some of the rarest expressions in English.

WHO IS WHO?

Speaking of radicals, the excited young man on the soapbox at the street corner, who tells us the government is all wrong is what we call a "red." He is "again the government." The rich man who hates the Eighteenth amendment and won't obey it, and keeps liquor in his cellar is also against the government.

One expresses his radicalism in one way and another in another. Who's who?

Songs of a Housewife
BY MARJORIE K. RAWLINGS

RAG RUGS

Suggested by Mrs. Benjamin L. C., Whitesburg, Ga.

RAG rugs are kindly, as old folks are kind,
Well-worn by life, but strong and sturdy still.

Softness has come, for youth is left behind,

And warmth is in them when the days are chill.

Rag rugs are beautiful, for they have served;

Once antique pantaloons and cape and shawl,

They have a mellow charm, and, quaintly curved,

Grace nursery and living-room and hall.

Rag rugs are dear, as memories are dear,

For they are woven from the well-loved past;

They are bright records of a vanished year,

And hold remembrance to the very last.

Great-grandma's hoop-skirt yields its velvet bands;

Grandfather's frock-coat donates. Thrifty wives,

Threading these fragments with their busy hands,

Are weaving patterns made of vanished lives.

Scientist Predicts: "In Another Generation One-Half the World Will Be Flying."

Household Hints

By Mrs. Mary Morton

MENU HINT

Peppers may be stuffed with a rice and tomato mixture or with leftover meat or fish. The latter may be mixed either with cooked rice or bread crumbs.

Stuffed Peppers Baked Potatoes
Cabbage Salad Peach Pie
Coffee or Tea

TODAY'S RECIPES

Peach Pie—Peel, stone and slice peaches, slice into pie crust with crust, and slice in fruit until crust is full, sprinkle liberally with sugar, pour in two tablespoons water, put on upper crust and bake.

Cannelloni of meat is a meat loaf or roll wrapped in waxed paper for baking, to keep the steam in. Any of the leaves may be cooked in this way.

Peach Meringue Pie—Peel, stone peaches, slice into pie crust with crust. If you like the flavor chop three peach kernels fine and scatter over the pie. Bake until the crust is done, beat up the whites of two eggs, sweeten with confectioner's sugar, spread on top of peaches and brown in a slow oven.

"Isn't it marvelous!" exclaimed one.

"It's the most beautiful thing I ever saw," declared the other.

"What do you suppose it is worth?"

"Oh, it's worth a fortune, of course. It must be. Look how beautiful it is. Why—I'll venture to say you'd have to pay at least $50,000 for it."

"More than that, I imagine," sighed her companion. "I should guess near $100,000."

"That necklace would be worth $100,000 to anybody who could afford it. What better way could you spend your money than to possess something so beautiful?"

Thus the talk ran excitedly on, and it was the sense of the meeting that the necklace was too perfectly lovely for words. Then one of the women suggested: "Just for fun, let's step inside and ask

Kellygrams

BY FRED C. KELEY

WHEN VALUE IS MENTAL

what is the price of it. I'd like to satisfy my curiosity."

By that time my own curiosity was aroused, and I followed them in.

A suave clerk, dressed like an ambassador's helper, confessed with grave dignity that the necklace was made of imitation pearls, but because of a little diamond in the clasp it was priced at $160.

The two left in a high state of disgust. Neither would have accepted the necklace as a gift!

If this treatment fails to prevent a development, then some of the following methods can be tried:

If the case is severe, the patient had better go to bed and the fever diet given—that is, plenty of water, fruit juices and fruits, and milk. Should constitutional symptoms arise, naturally he should have a physician.

Everyone seems to have a favorite remedy for poison ivy, but what may act like magic in one case, doesn't act at all in another.

This disease is what we call self-limited—that is, it dies out by itself usually in a week or ten days, and you could easily see how a remedy applied at the normal time of its disappearance would hold a reputation for a miraculous cure that wasn't warranted.

Bandages kept moistened with a solution of cooking soda or borax—one teaspoonful dissolved in a cup of water—may be applied, but they must be changed frequently.

Hol's solutions of permanganate of potash seem to be helpful in many cases, two per cent strength if the blisters are not broken, but only half as strong if they are. This stains the skin a mahogany brown, but it can be removed by the application of lemon juice.

Other remedies are a ten per cent solution of hyposulfite of soda (photographers' fixing liquid); epsom salts; extract of Grindelia, ten per cent. Epsom salt solution will allay the inflammation and is as satisfactory as most of the remedies. Applications of sugar or lead used to be used, but it may cause lead poisoning if it is used very extensively.

Blisters when fully developed should be opened with a sterile needle (passing the needle through the flame three or four times to sterilize it), and the serum expressed with pledgets of cotton.

In the late stages, milk boric acid or zinc oxide ointment may hasten the cure. Only preparations should not be used in the beginning.

For the relief of itching, the immersion of the part in water as hot as can be borne is about the best remedy. If the eruption is on the face, you can use towels saturated in hot water.

Importance of Destroying Poison Ivy

Every land owner should see that the poisonous vegetation is destroyed on his premises, and the community should see that it is destroyed on public waysides and parks. Naturally those who are employed to eradicate these plants should not be susceptible to the poison, but if they exercise the precautions of wearing heavy gloves, putting an application of soap solution on the face, neck and ears, they might do the work without any injury.

The pamphlet issued by the U.S. Public Health Service, on Ivy and Sumac Poisoning, which you can receive by sending request and five cents in stamps to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., states that the most rapid and efficient method in dealing with the plants is to grub them out, taking care to remove the running root stalks which produce another crop of the plants the following year. The plants in the fields may be destroyed by plowing up the soil and planting cultivated crops.

Where injury to other plants is not to be considered, the use of kerosene has proven an effective method of destroying poisonous plants. This can be applied by a sprayer or spray. It may have to be applied more than once, and is more effective if the soil around the roots is cut up slightly, so they will also get a little dose. The usefulness of the soil is not long impaired by this method.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. McCormick left for Chicago for a two weeks' visit with friends.

Mr. Clark McVay left for a week's visit at Washington, D. C.

Mr. C. S. Frazer arrived home from a three week's outing in Pennsylvania, along the lakes and in Canada.

Keep the baby immaculately clean and be sure that her

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and
"Diet for Children"

My Dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.—Lulu Hunt Peters.

POISON IVY, OAK AND SUMAC (PART 3)

In the two preceding papers, I described the poison ivy and oak and sumac characteristics, and told you that the poisonous property is an oil, most of which may be washed off in several waters, or running hot water with plenty of soap and several pledges of gauze. Also, the application of strong soap solution on the hands and face, before going where the plants are, may prevent the poison's penetrating the skin. Remember that poisons on the hands can easily be carried to other parts of the body unless care is taken.

If this treatment fails to prevent a development, then some of the following methods can be tried:

If the case is severe, the patient had better go to bed and the fever diet given—that is, plenty of water, fruit juices and fruits, and milk. Should constitutional symptoms arise, naturally he should have a physician.

Everyone seems to have a favorite remedy for poison ivy, but what may act like magic in one case, doesn't act at all in another.

This disease is what we call self-limited—that is, it dies out by itself usually in a week or ten days, and you could easily see how a remedy applied at the normal time of its disappearance would hold a reputation for a miraculous cure that wasn't warranted.

Bandages kept moistened with a solution of cooking soda or borax—one teaspoonful dissolved in a cup of water—may be applied, but they must be changed frequently.

Hol's solutions of permanganate of potash seem to be helpful in many cases, two per cent strength if the blisters are not broken, but only half as strong if they are. This stains the skin a mahogany brown, but it can be removed by the application of lemon juice.

Other remedies are a ten per cent solution of hyposulfite of soda (photographers' fixing liquid); epsom salts; extract of Grindelia, ten per cent. Epsom salt solution will allay the inflammation and is as satisfactory as most of the remedies. Applications of sugar or lead used to be used, but it may cause lead poisoning if it is used very extensively.

Blisters when fully developed should be opened with a sterile needle (passing the needle through the flame three or four times to sterilize it), and the serum expressed with pledgets of cotton.

In the late stages, milk boric acid or zinc oxide ointment may hasten the cure. Only preparations should not be used in the beginning.

For the relief of itching, the immersion of the part in water as hot as can be borne is about the best remedy. If the eruption is on the face, you can use towels saturated in hot water.

Importance of Destroying Poison Ivy

Every land owner should see that the poisonous vegetation is destroyed on his premises, and the community should see that it is destroyed on public waysides and parks. Naturally those who are employed to eradicate these plants should not be susceptible to the poison, but if they exercise the precautions of wearing heavy gloves, putting an application of soap solution on the face, neck and ears, they might do the work without any injury.

The pamphlet issued by the U.S. Public Health Service, on Ivy and Sumac Poisoning, which you can receive by sending request and five cents in stamps to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C., states that the most rapid and efficient method in dealing with the plants is to grub them out, taking care to remove the running root stalks which produce another crop of the plants the following year. The plants in the fields may be destroyed by plowing up the soil and planting cultivated crops.

Where injury to other plants is not to be considered, the use of kerosene has proven an effective method of destroying poisonous plants. This can be applied by a sprayer or spray. It may have to be applied more than once, and is more effective if the soil around the roots is cut up slightly, so they will also get a little dose. The usefulness of the soil is not long impaired by this method.

According to a thrifty habit of mine, I counted the words of this day letter until I saw that it ran considerably beyond fifty words in length. A nice little item of expense!

Reaching me just as easily as telephone. Nor does the lady think she looks like the third witch in Macbeth—which, indeed, she doesn't; she thinks she looks like the combined best features of Ethel Barrymore

JUNIOR BUSINESS MEN TAKE CITY TITLE GAME FROM FIREMEN

By virtue of a long lead established in the early innings, the Junior Business Men, Class A champions of the Xenia Play-ground League, trounced the Firemen, Class B champions, 13 to 6 in the opener of a three-game series to decide the city softball title.

The second chapter of the series will be played Thursday night at 6 o'clock and should a third game be necessary, it will be played off next week.

The Junior Business Men opened viciously in the first inning on Downey, Fireman burler, in a big scoring spree that ended at the figure seven. Three more runs were added in the second inning, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Firemen scored once in the first inning, twice in the second, once in the fifth and two more in the seventh. The Class B champs had an uncanny faculty for filling the bases frequently, but lacked the punch at critical moments to score runs.

Fast fielding in the outfield, especially by Clark Eckerle, who turned in a number of brilliant catches, saved the situation many times with runners in a position to score. Eckerle also played a prominent part in the attack and scored one run himself. Downey hit well for the Firemen.

Frame pitched with Hult behind the plate for the winners, Downey and Dice formed the battery for the Firemen. The Junior Business Men were without the services of their regular shortstop, Patterson, who may not be able to play in the series.

Firemen's lineup: Buffington, 3b; Downey, p.; Cope, ss.; Dickey, cf.; J. Haller, 2b; H. Haller, rf.; Dice, c.; Swartz, lf.; Briley, lb.; Finlay, ss.; Eckerle, cf.

Score by innings: J. B. M. 730 002 100-13 Firemen 120 010 200-6 Umpires—Boxwell at the plate; Turnbull and E. Babbs at the bases.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Boston 2, Cincinnati 1, (11 inn.). Brooklyn 5, St. Louis 3. New York 7, Chicago 3. Philadelphia 3, Pittsburgh 2 (first game, 10 innings). Pittsburgh 12, Philadelphia 6 (second game).

GAMES TODAY

Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

Cincinnati at Boston.

St. Louis at Brooklyn.

Others not scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Clubs	Won	Lost	Pct.
New York	88	37	.704
Philadelphia	72	53	.576
Detroit	68	54	.557
Washington	66	57	.557
Chicago	59	64	.480
CLEVELAND	55	70	.440
St. Louis	47	75	.385
Boston	39	84	.317

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

No games scheduled.

GAMES TODAY

Boston at New York.

Philadelphia at Washington.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Clubs	Won	Lost	Pct.
Kansas City	84	56	.600
Milwaukee	82	57	.590
TOLEDO	80	57	.584
Minneapolis	76	65	.539
St. Paul	74	64	.536
Indianapolis	59	78	.431
Louisville	51	88	.367
COLUMBUS	49	90	.353

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Indianapolis 7, St. Paul 3. Kansas City 9, Columbus 1. Minneapolis 3, Louisville 2 (11 innings). Milwaukee 5, Toledo 2 (first game). Toledo 12, Milwaukee 6 (second game).

GAMES TODAY

Toledo at Milwaukee.

Columbus at Kansas City.

Indianapolis at St. Paul.

Louisville at Minneapolis.

XENIA HORSES WILL COMPETE ON STATE FAIR SPEED EVENTS

Several Greene County horsemen have entered harness racers in the Ohio State Fair races at Columbus August 29-September 3.

Ed Fogwell, Osborn sportsman, has entered four horses in the events.

He nominated Prince Binville for the two-year-old trot for the Secretary of State $1,500 purse, and Al Bingens in the 2:13 pace for the Buckeye $1,200 purse Tuesday.

He has also named Al Jennings, h. g., by Wallace McKinney, for the 2:11 pace and $1,000 purse and The Specimen, h. g., by The Exponent in the 2:20 trot for a purse of $1,000 to run Friday.

Silver Pointer, gr. g., by Sidney Pointer, familiar horse to Xenia fans, is also entered in the 2:11 pace by P. E. Sellars, Dayton, O.

Dr. L. O. Addison, Xenia, entered Ammunition, bl. g., by San Francisco, in the 2:25 trot scheduled for Monday, but rain interfered with the racing after one heat. Dr. Addison has also nominated Lee Winans, b. c., by Lee Tide, for the three-year-old trot and Governor's $2,000 purse Thursday.

Handy Jim, h. g., by Peter the Great, is listed to start for the money in the 2:07 pace for a $1,000 purse, by David Fifer, Xenia.

Steve G. Phillips, popular Xenia starting judge, is again sending the trotters and pacers away this year at Columbus.

RESERVE SLUGGERS RAISE AVERAGE FOR SEASON ON SUNDAY

Reserves raised their season's batting average three points to a mark of .334 by pounding out fifteen bingles in Sunday's debacle with the Xenia Merchants.

Tangeman, Conley, Fenner, Weller and Dodson were the players in particular to benefit in the percentage column by the heavy swinging.

Reserves have now won sixteen games and lost five this season.

Batting records follow:

Player	AB.	R.	H.	Pct.
Medert	1	0	1	.000
Crowl	5	1	3	.600
Dodson	16	6	9	.562
Conley	37	17	19	.513
Scott	2	2	1	.500
Fenner	9	1	4	.444
Herman	7	1	3	.428
Durnbaugh	90	30	38	.422
Payton	39	9	16	.410
Tangeman	74	20	30	.405
C. Scott	63	22	21	.333
Johnson	70	16	21	.300
Rader	64	17	19	.296
Weller	75	22	21	.280
Keifer	75	22	20	.273
D. Fuller	8	2	2	.250
Cyphers	77	12	19	.246
Black	18	3	4	.222
Pobet	5	2	1	.200
Witzell	17	3	2	.117
J. Fuller	4	1	0	.000
Smithson	1	0	0	.000
Schoepf	1	0	0	.000
Jacobs	1	0	0	.000
Totals	759	210	254	.334

FIRE DESTROYS BARN ON MOORE DAIRY FARM; LOSS NEAR $5,000

Fire originating in the haymow completely destroyed a large barn and most of its contents, including part of the equipment for a dairy plant in the basement on the farm of V. H. Moore, dairyman, N. Detroit St., located five miles north of Xenia on the Fairfield Pike early Wednesday.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

The pair had finished milking seventeen cows and Hill had gone out of the barn to get the remainder when he noticed smoke issuing from the hayloft near the wall and under the roof.

The fire started in a pile of hay about a month old. A quantity of new hay was stored in another part of the loft. The barn was enclosed.

Hill, tenant on the farm, Hill and a seventeen-year-old boy helper, Leonard Crane, were engaged in milking a herd of forty dairy cows.

LOCATION OF BOARD AUTO SPEEDWAY IN XENIA IS POSSIBLE

At least four sportsmen who will be interested in the possibilities of Xenia as the location for a board auto race speedway will attend the Labor Day auto speed program at the Fairgrounds track according to Guy Wade, promoter.

It is the claim of these auto race enthusiasts that Xenia is ideally situated geographically for such a project with arteries of improved highways in all directions and covering within a radius of fifty miles, easily more than 500,000 people.

"YES, I SOLD IT," HE REPLIED;
"I USED AN AD IN CLASSIFIED."

Classified Advertising Page

THE EVENING GAZETTE, XENIA, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 31, 1927.

"I FOUND JUST WHAT I WANT-
ED," SAID HE; "A CLASSIFIED
AD BROUGHT IT TO ME."

Classified Advertising Rates

Daily Rate Per Line for Consecutive Insertions.

Insertions Cash Charge

Six days 67 68

Three days 69 70

One day 70 70

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification, style and type. The right is reserved by the Publishers to edit or reject any advertising.

The Xenia Gazette and Republic can maintain a staff of expert readers and performers service and render advice on all kinds of advertising.

Advertisements ordered for regular insertions will be charged at the one-time rate. No advertisement will be taken for less than the cost of three consecutive lines for yearly advertising upon request.

The Publishers will be responsible for any incorrect insertion of any advertisement. Classified Ads will be received until 9:30 a.m. for publication the same day.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1 Card of Thanks

2 Memorials

3 Births, Announcements

4 Taxi Service

5 Notices, Meetings

6 Personal

7 Lost and Found

BUSINESS CARDS

8 Cleaning, Pressing, Laundering

9 Dressmaking, Millinery

10 Tailoring, Tailoring

11 Professional Services

12 Roofing, Plumbing, Heating

13 Electricians, Wiring

14 Painting, Contracting

15 Painting, Papering

16 Repairing, Refinishing

17 Moving, Packing, Storage

18 Help Wanted—Male

19 Help Wanted—Female

20 Help Wanted—Male or Female

21 Help Wanted—Agents—Salesmen

22 Situations Wanted

23 Help Wanted—Instruction

24 Dogs—Canaries—Pets

25 Horses—Cattle—Hogs

MISCELLANEOUS

27 Wanted To Buy

28 Miscellaneous For Sale

29 Musical Instruments—Radios

30 Books—Magazines

31 Wedding Apparel—Shoes

32 Groceries—Meats

RENTALS

33 Where To Rent

34 Rooms With Board

35 Rooms For Rent—Furnished

36 Rooms For Rent—Unfurnished

37 Houses—Flats—Furnished

38 Office and Desk Rooms

39 Miscellaneous For Rent

REAL ESTATE

42 Lots For Sale

43 Apartments For Exchange

44 Farms For Sale

45 Business Opportunities

46 Wanted Real Estate

AUTOMOTIVE

48 Automobile Insurance

49 Auto Laundry—Painting

50 Tires—Rubber—Batteries

51 Parts—Service—Repairing

52 Motorcycles—Bicycles

53 Auto Agencies

54 Used Auto Sales

PUBLIC SALES

55 Auctioneers

56 Auction Sales

LOST AND FOUND

57 TRAVELING—Bag containing ba by money and other wearing ap parel between Beavertown and

Springfield via Xenia. Reward

Phone 10-K-1, Bellbrook.

ROOFING, PLUMBING, HEATING

12

WANTED—MALE

18 WANTED—Tenant hand by the day or month. A. J. Furay, Phone

Cedarville 4 on 152.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

19 THREE—Saleswoman, house to house work. Apply in person to Mrs. Warne, Hornick House.

WANTED—A girl clerk at Famous

Cheap Store.

HELP WANTED—MALE OR FEMALE

20 CAPABLE MEN—And women can earn large salary, taking orders for guaranteed novelty. Manager wanted. Good salary and commission. Goodwear Hosiery

Mills, Trenton, N. J.

SITUATIONS WANTED

22 WANTED—Place in country or in station by middle aged woman

21 & King St., Maggie Wright.

WANTED—Position by young man with high school education. Address 223 W. Main.

HORSES—CATTLE—HOGS

26 JERSEY—Bull, 15 months old

Phone 4065-N.

45 DOUBLE—Immured Durac

spring shoats. Good ones. T. C. Woford.

WANTED TO BUY

27 WANTED—Second hand bicycle must be in good shape. Call at 12 E. Second St., Xenia.

MISCELLANEOUS FOR SALE

28 TICKLES—For sale. Phone 4097

F-2. C. F. Johnson, Xenia, R. 5.

PUMPS—Rocklet's line of well and cistern pumps, hand, electric and power driven, is the best

Pump repairs. THE BOCKLET

KING CO., 415 W. Main St., Phone 346.

WIRING—Fixtures and all kinds of electrical appliances. H. W.

Main St.

WHEAT DRILL—Fair condition, price $12.00. John Harbine, Allen Bldg.

MEET IN TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 31.—Directors of the International Society for Crippled Children will meet here September 23 and 24, to outline plans for the society.

At that time the proposal to take a national census of crippled children will be discussed. A special committee on this census has been named as follows: A. L.

Garford, Elyria, O.; R. J. Condon,

Cincinnati; Dr. Willis C. Campbell, Memphis, Tenn. President

Coolidge may be asked to call a conference at Washington in 1928 to study the crippled children problem of the country.

RADIO PROGRAM

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 31

International Radio Programs

ETHER'S WHITE CAPS

6:30 P. M.—WBZ (333) Springfield

—Concert "Principio Hawaiian Trio."

9:30 P. M.—WRV (254) Richmond, Orchestra "Hardy's Negro

Jazzbo."

10:00 P. M.—CNRW (384) Winnipeg. Studio program, Canadian National Symphony Orchestra.

10:00 P. M.—KGO (384) Oakland—Vacation program. "Wonders of the Sky—WOW Trio—Nothem

Lights—Mandolin—Guitar."

SILENT

CNRB, WBAL, WBBR, WGBS,

WIP, WPC, WRC, KLD, KOIL,

WCBD, WFAA, WMC, WOW,

WFAA.

WANTED TO RENT

41

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

30

FURNITURE—And stoves. Mendenhall, N. King St., Phone 736.

ROOMS FOR RENT—

35

FURNISHED

HOUSES—FLATS—

UNFURNISHED

37

WANTED—Roomers. 126 Hill St.

Phone 476-R.

WANTED—Roomers.

100

Advertisements are restricted to proper classification, style and type. The right is reserved by the Publishers to edit or reject any advertising.

The Xenia Gazette and Republic can maintain a staff of expert re

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Peter's Adventures

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

"CAN IT BE AN UMBRELLA?"
Peter couldn't believe that he had heard aright.

"My ears must have played me false. Tortoise. Surely you didn't say you were a hundred years old!" cried he, and he stared at his companion.

Jack-in-the-Box grinned and nodded his head.

"Not quite a hundred, but mighty near it. A few years more or less."

Tortoise was slowly crawling off, but he halted long enough to call back over his shoulder:

"And I'm not going to, either—at least, not until I have had my luncheon. I am nearly starved; can't wait for a snack another minute. And I spy a most delicious morsel right ahead of me."

Peter looked around, expecting, of course, to see some unwary insect crossing Tortoise's path. No one in sight. What in the world was Jack-in-the-Box doing? Had the fellow gone crazy? What could he be pacing 'round and 'round in circles for? He was not running but walking, and slowly, too. Every few steps Tortoise would halt with a jerk. What was that thing around which he was circling? It was tall and round and smooth and shiny. And it was a creamy yellow.

"What can that be?" cried Peter. "It looks like an umbrella from here." The Boy's curiosity got the better of him, and he hurried after Tortoise to find out what his friend was up to.

Tomorrow "Around the Toadstool Table."

NO LONGER IGNORED

SANTA MONICA, Cal.—Hereafter, bathing beauty contests will not be confined to the graceful lines of only feminine forms at Santa Monica. Men, too, will have a chance to exhibit their shapely forms when the annual state convention will be held here in October. Fat, thin, tall, short, bushy-haired or bald, they all will have a chance to participate in the men's beauty parade.

"I am very sorry, but you start-don't count for much in a Tortoise life," said he.

Peter gasped.

"I can scarcely believe it," stammered the boy. "I didn't dream you were any older than I am. You are such a jolly chap. Why, I never before met any one so ancient. I should think you'd be very proud, indeed, of yourself."

"I am," replied Jack-in-the-Box, shortly. Then he scowled. "But that is no reason why we should keep talking about it. There are lots of more pleasant subjects than age. If you were as old as I am you would realize it."

"I am very sorry, but you start-

FORLORN FIGURES

Business giant who has no more room on his office wall for slogans and mottos.

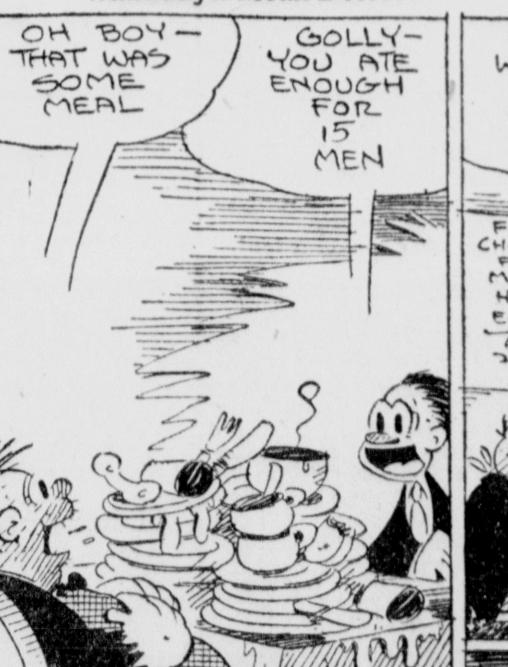

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

HIGH PRESSURE PETE

Whaddaya Mean Dessert?

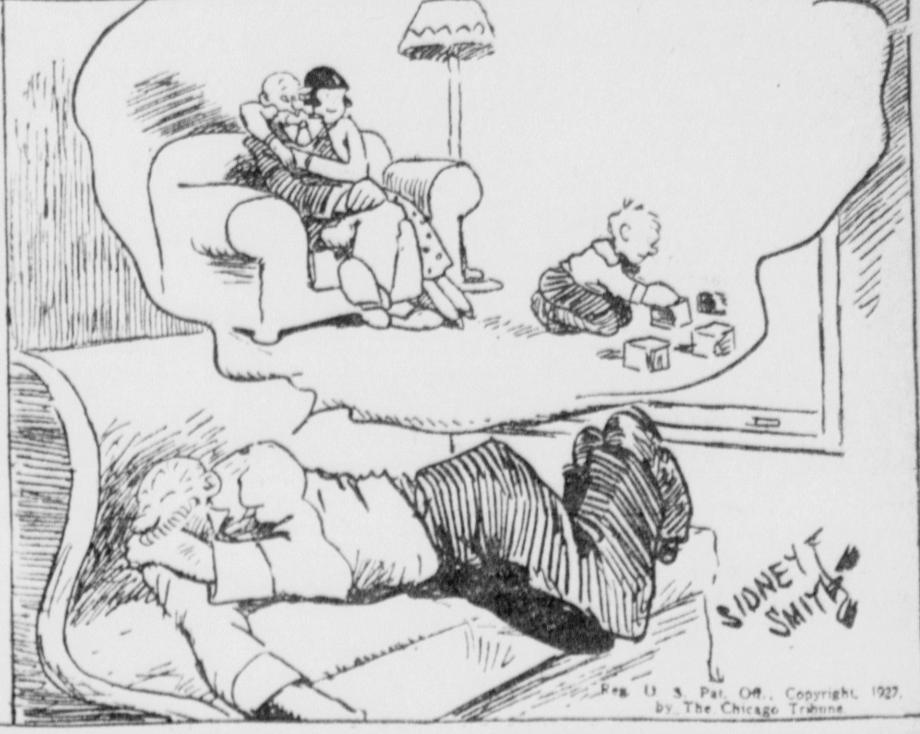

BY SWAN

THE GUMPS—TWO HEARTS THAT BEAT AS ONE

I SELECTED MY HUSBAND LIKE I DID MY WEDDING GOWN FOR QUALITIES THAT WOULD WEAR WELL - YOU ARE MY GREAT BIG STURDY OAK AND MY LOVE IS LIKE A VINE TWINING ITS TENDRILS AROUND YOU MORE LOVINGLY AS TIME GOES ON - LITTLE CHESTER ASKS FOR HIS DADDY A THOUSAND TIMES A DAY - AND OUR ARMS ARE ACHING TO WELCOME YOU BACK HOME TO THE LITTLE WORLD OF LOVE OVER WHICH YOU ARE SUPREME MONARCH - XXXXXXXX MIN -

THERE'S 'A WIFE !

REG. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright, 1927
by The Chicago Tribune

ETTA KETT

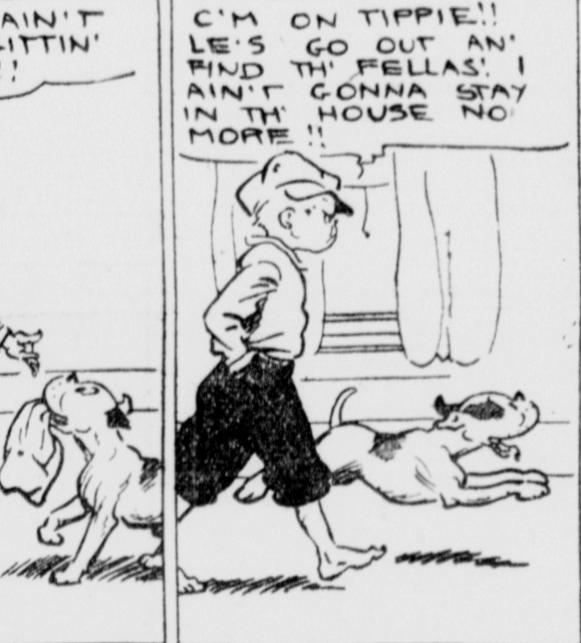

—By PAUL ROBINSON

Everything Else But—

By Edwina

CAP STUBBS—Who's Afraid!!

SKIPPY

Copyright, P. L. Crosby, 1927, Central Press Association, Inc.

8-31

HIGH PRESSURE PETE

BY SWAN

The Theater

A former Springfield girl, Avonne Taylor, takes one of the featured roles in Norma Shearer's starring vehicle "After Midnight." Miss Taylor answered to the name of "Evangeline" when she attended the Clifton St. School in Springfield.

Avonne, with her family, moved from Springfield several years ago to make her home in Cleveland. It was there she heard the call of the stage and began to act. She was later featured in "Ziegfeld Follies," "Kid Boots." The big fellows who must charge and "Sally" besides other New handsomely if they are to make York productions. Her appearance profit off their first run pictures in "After Midnight," marks tures complain that the little fe-lows are cleaning up at the expense of the greatest houses. The squawk of the first-run houses would seem to be justified. They contend they sink a great deal of money in exploitation, house upkeep and for the picture itself. Along come the little "shooting galleries" as the trade terms them, a few weeks later, to offer the same attraction, though probably greatly cut, for a thin dime.

Though he's a busy movie man, Joseph M. Schenck (Mr. Norma Talmadge) has been appointed a member of the California highway commission.

Big picture houses of Chicago, led by Balaban and Katz, are heading the protest. B. and K. have demanded protection of one year over theaters charging admission of less than fifteen cents.

The dime shows have the great down town picture palaces frightened. And the great down town picture palaces are admitting it stock. She was later featured in "Ziegfeld Follies," "Kid Boots." The big fellows who must charge and "Sally" besides other New handsomely if they are to make York productions. Her appearance profit off their first run pictures in "After Midnight," marks tures complain that the little fe-

Sally's Shoulders
by BEATRICE BURTON, Author of
"HER MAN"
"HONEY LOU"
"THE HOLLYWOOD-GIRL," ETC.

READ THIS FIRST:

SALLY JEROME, pretty and clever, is the mainstay of her family in the absence of her father, who does not live with her mother. MRS. JEROME enjoys poor health, so Sally does the housework mornings and office work in the afternoons. BEAU and MILLIE, her brother and sister, give nothing, practically, to the support of the home. Occasionally Mr. Jerome sends some money.

In the flat below the Jerome's lives TED SLOAN, who is in love with Sally, but the only man who interests her is JOHN NYE, whose real estate office is across the hall from Mr. Pevey's office, where Sally works. Millie is Nye's secretary, and he is infatuated with her. But Millie prefers a boy salesman named DAVIDSON, who has avowed a secret admiration for Sally. Sally will have nothing to do with him.

Beau "borrows" some money from the bank where he works, and Sally gets the money to pay it back. Then Beau elopes with his girl, MABEL, and brings her home to live, paying no board and squandering his money.

MILLIE goes to the hospital for an operation, and John Nye pays her expenses. Sally does her work in John Nye's office, and when Mr. Pevey retires from business Nye offers her a steady job. She refuses it, and goes into the wayside inn business with her aunt, EMILY JEROME, an ex-school teacher.

Their business does not prosper and finally Aunt Em hires a jazz band, and Sally puts on an exhibition dance with Ted Sloan. Mrs. Jerome, who has brought the whole family to live at Aunt Em's, disapproves of this, but Sally does it anyway. Mr. Jerome becomes seriously ill, and Mrs. Jerome goes to him, later sending to Sally for $100 and some things she wants. Then Mabel's baby is born and Sally becomes a sort of second mother to the child. One night Davidson tries to make love to Sally and she repulses him, and goes out of doors with Ted Sloan, to get away from him. While she and Ted are sitting together, out in the darkness, John Nye comes upon them and sees them. Sally supposes he thinks Ted was kissing her, but she doesn't care. In her own heart she has given him up to Millie and wants to forget him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY!

CHAPTER LI

ONE night early in August a dreadful thing happened.

It was a hot Saturday—an airless night, lit by a red moon that hung like a copper lantern low in the bluish sky.

All evening long the dining room in the House by the Side of the Road had been packed with hungry revelers. All evening long the garden outside the house had been filled with automobiles that came and went through the wide gateway. All evening long Aunt Em's two little waitresses had rushed back and forth from the kitchen to the dining room, with trays of cold pink watermelon, bowls of cracked ice, and platters of chicken Maryland in their hands.

Sally had danced four times, and made salads in the kitchen between dances. Then she had helped Aunt Em wash dishes, and at 1 o'clock, when she started upstairs to bed, she was dog-tired.

Her small feet, that danced as if little wings were fastened to them, dragged on the steps. The smooth pink soles of them ached.

Sally's head ached, too—and so did her heart. It had been aching with a dull, persistent ache that had been in it ever since a night weeks before when Millie had told her that John Nye had laughed at all the things she had done for him during the weeks she worked in his office.

She was used to that ache by this time—so used to it that it was nothing more than a feeling of loneliness and emptiness in her heart now. She felt as if someone suddenly had blown out all the candles in a room, and left her standing in the cold darkness. An odd way for Sally to feel. Sally, who had always been satisfied with the joy and fun of living that she had snapped her quick little fingers at poverty and work and discomfort—at all the things that some folk find so hard to bear.

She reached the top of the stairs, kicked off her silver-kid slippers with tiny bells fastened to their straps, and went into her own room. There was a light in it, and sitting on the edge of the bed was Mabel. She had a large, nickel-plated watch in one hand, and with the other she held together the flaps of a soiled silk kimono.

"Look at that!" she said to her sister-in-law, and Sally did look at the watch she dangled before her eyes. "Look at the time—five minutes after 11!"

"Yes, but the baby doesn't get his bottle until 2," replied Sally, puzzled. It was one of her jobs to get up at 2 every night and go down stairs to warm a bottle for Beauregard, Jr. Mabel was still very weak and ill to be wakened two or three times every night, so she said. "I'm not talking about the baby!" Mabel rapped out impatiently. "I'm talking about the baby's beautiful father! He's not home yet!"

Sally stared at her in amazement. "Not home yet! Why, I didn't know he was out!" she gasped. She was so busy every evening with the dining room that she rarely knew what was going on upstairs in the rooms that belonged to the family.

"Why, certainly he's out!" snapped Mabel, suspiciously. She seemed to think that Sally knew where Beau was, and was shielding him. "He and Millie sneaked out together in my car about 9 o'clock. I didn't know it until they were gone."

Mabel had eyes red with weeping.

"If I had the money I'd keep house again," she whined.

always called the rattling red roadster her car, although Beau always drove it.

"Well, then, if he's with Millie, he's all right, isn't he?" asked Sally, soothingly. "You know, that car breaks down every time it runs and they'll be along pretty soon. You'd better go to bed, Mabel, and try to get some sleep."

Having said this, she took a long breath and went on: "I never should have given up my home. Out here we don't have anything to do—Beau and I. No wonder we get sick of each other, just sitting here in one room, staring at each other. . . . Do you think he's really got a girl, Sally?"

"No!" Sally fibbed promptly and forcefully. She was sure that Millie had told the truth about him the night before.

She filled the coffee pot and lit the gas ring.

"If I had the money I'd keep house again," Mabel whined. "But I haven't got it—and I never will have it until I get another job. I wish I could go to work again for a while. The baby doesn't need me anyway. You take better care of him than I do, Sally, and I don't know what to do with myself all day around here."

Sally said nothing.

She thought, herself, that Mabel might be happier, working to save money for house furnishings, than she was here, lying around the house all day in a soiled kimono, reading one magazine story after another—just as fast as she could read them.

And beyond all doubt, it was a bad thing for Beau to have no home of his own to keep going. Beau was the kind of man who had to have his nose kept to the grindstone if he was to be kept out of mischief. Weak, good-looking, young pleasure-loving, he was easy prey for the type of girl who will go "stepping" with another woman's husband.

"I wish I knew where Beau is," she asked, heading for the stairs. "He drove me down here to 'The Lark' to meet Davy, and he picked up some girl of his and beat it with her in his car. . . . That's the last I saw of 'em."

"Some girl of his!" It was Mabel's voice, and it was full of agony. "Why, what do you mean?"

Millie was sick all day Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. But on Wednesday she went to work.

At noon she came home in a taxi cab.

Sally, who was peeling potatoes in the kitchen, saw her come and hurried to the front of the house to meet her, thinking that she had come home with a sick headache or something of the kind.

But Millie was far from being sick. She came storming into the house, with her eyes blue-black with fury and scarlet color flaming in her cheeks like a dancer signal.

"What on earth's the matter?" Sally asked, as she hurried herself down upon a chair in the wide, cool hallway and threw back her fur-trimmed chifon coat. Millie's working clothes all looked like party dresses, she decided to be dead and dumb, so far as Mabel was concerned. She would neither listen to nor answer her—and the more Mabel tried to shake and threaten the truth out of her, the more stubbornly she kept up that maddening silence.

At 3 in the morning, Beau had not come home, and Sally and Mabel had the baby and went to bed.

The next morning at 7, when Sally tiptoed downstairs to the kitchen for the baby's next bottle, Mabel was there ahead of her.

She was in curl papers and her eyes were red with weeping.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist who draws the long-legged blondes, has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

girls taking their dolls in so carts and the boys with their pets.

Mrs. L. J. Willens has returned from a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Roy Irons of Clyde, O.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stingley are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sims of Huntington, W. Va.

Miss Effie Burnett, of New Burlington has been the guest of relatives here for several days.

Mr. Gordon Worthen of Springfield was the weekend guest of Mr. William Peterson.

Mrs. Carl Copsey and daughter have returned from a pleasant visit with relatives in Chicago.

Mr. A. R. Borton left last week for Michigan where he will spend several weeks because of suffering from hay fever.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.

John Held, Jr., the cartoonist

who draws the long-legged blondes,

has gone movie. A comic strip by him will be made into a film.

Jane La Verne, aged four, has been signed for star parts by Universal.

Present protection is for only six months.

It is said distributors and large operators elsewhere are in favor of the new demand, though no action on the matter has been reported.